BABY DEATHS

Hospital Dispute To Be Aired

The baby death controversy will be hammered out at a meeting within the next 10 days between Health Minister Eric Martin and hospital officials.

R. H. Proctor, president of the B.C. Hospital Association, said today arrangements for the meeting were made by telephone with Mr. Martin.

He said the association executive normally meets the minister after a convention.

It was at this year's convention two weeks ago that Dr. R. E. Adams of St. Joseph's Hospital charged too many babies died in one B.C. hospital.

Mr. Martin called off an investigation when Dr. Adams refused to identify the hospital.

SAVE UP TO 105
Dr. Adams now says that for a cost of $100,000 the lives of 75 to 105 babies could be saved each year in B.C.

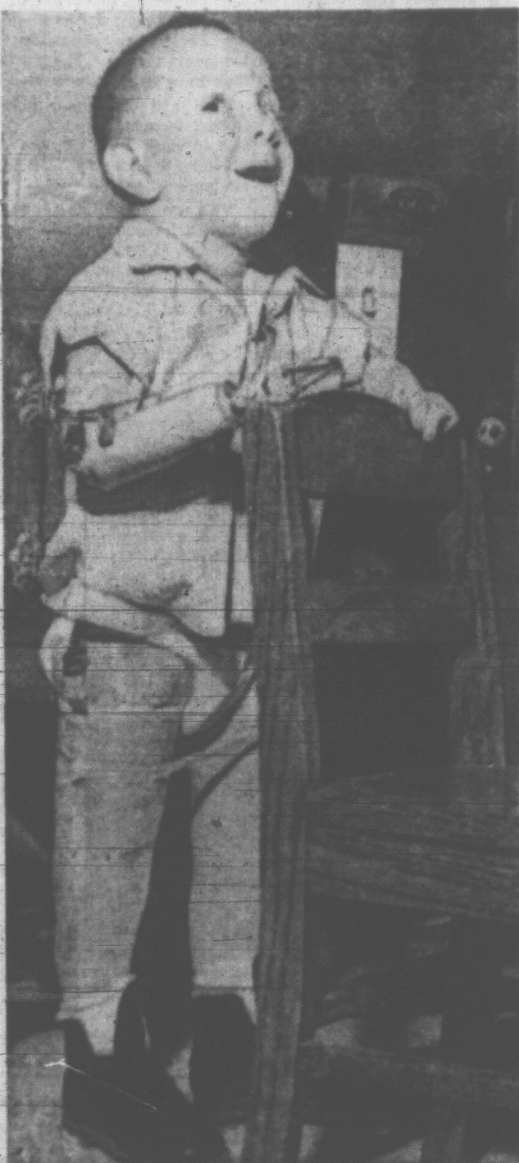

The money would pay for a province-wide study of baby deaths.

Dr. Adams said he would not comment on Mr. Martin's accusation that he had been guilty of gross irresponsibility.

He said he was leaving any further statements to the association.

However, he welcomed the forthcoming meeting with Mr. Martin as a step in the right direction.

Mr. Proctor said the meeting will be either Nov. 13 or 18 and it might be here or in Vancouver.

More Men Sent Through Today

(Times News Services)

BERLIN—The Russians suddenly lifted their blockade against a U.S. Army convoy on the East German autobahn—in the face of a solid display of Allied unity—and the Americans finally arrived in West Berlin early today 42 hours later.

SEPARATISM GETS BOOST AT 'BANQUET'

MONTREAL (CP)—Delegates to the Canadian Tourist Association convention angrily walked out on a civic dinner when they found the menu consisted of ready-mixed cocktails, cold cuts and potato salad served from bare wooden tables in the city-owned chalet atop Mount Royal.

"They can't be serious," snorted one of the delegates. Mayor Jean Drapeau, unable to attend the dinner on Monday, heard of the incident Tuesday and immediately ordered an investigation.

Reds Haven't Called Off Moon Shot

MOSCOW (UPI)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev said today the Soviet Union has not given up its lunar project and would possibly launch a man to the moon when it is certain he "can be sent back."

Khrushchev discussed moon and other space problems in a 15-minute interview with a group of American business executives visiting Moscow.

"In regard to the question of whether we have given up the lunar project for economic reasons or otherwise, we have never said we are giving up our lunar project. You're the ones who said that," Khrushchev said.

"And when we talk about the technical possibilities of doing this, and when we have complete confidence that whoever is sent to the moon can safely be sent back, then it is quite feasible. Quite possible. When, I don't know."

Hot Line Stays Cool

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy got several hours' advance notice that the Russians were going to lift their armored-car blockade of a Berlin-bound U.S. Army convoy.

From whom the word came was not clear, but informants said it was not flashed over the "hot line" set up for swift emergency communications between the White House and Kremlin.

U.S. Leads in Rockets, Soviet Has Most Troops

LONDON (AP)—The United States will have 475 intercontinental rockets stacked up against Russia's army of about 100 by the start of 1964, an authoritative defence survey estimates today.

Present strength of Soviet armed forces was put at 3,300,000 men compared with 2,700,000 men under arms in the United States.

But the total service manpower for nations of the Western alliance was 7,920,000 compared with 7,522,000 for the Communist bloc, including Communist China.

The findings are given in a report by the Institute for Strategic Studies, a non-governmental but authoritative body whose researches are backed by grants from such organizations as the Ford and Rockefeller foundations.

"The main lines of Soviet defence policy in 1963 have changed little from those of the preceding two years," the report says. "The slow buildup of the strategic deterrent force of intercontinental ballistic missiles (ICBMs) is continuing."

STRESS HIGH YIELD
"Soviet policy still lays stress on high yield warheads for the smaller number of missiles available."

The report says the nuclear test ban treaty may inhibit Russia's anti-missile program but is unlikely to hold up Soviet advance in low yield nuclear weapons—"the one field where Soviet prowess is apparently inferior to that of the United States."

The Chinese-Soviet dispute is described as a complicating factor. "Apart from 17 Soviet divisions in the Far East, troops already in central Asia, and a few detachments beyond Lake Baikal, the Soviet Union has no military formations other than border guards along its border with China."

But the report predicts "there is unlikely to be any shift of forces from Europe or European Russia."

In addition to the home-based ICBMs, the U.S. has 1,300 strategic bombers and 10 Polaris submarines equipped with 16 rockets apiece in its nuclear deterrent pattern, the report says. It estimates Russia's strategic air force at nearly 1,200 planes, though about 1,000 of these are Badger medium bombers with a comparatively short unrefuelled range of 3,500 miles.

K THREATENS WHEAT DEAL WITH U.S.

MOSCOW (AP)—Premier Khrushchev said today Soviet plans to buy American wheat may be cancelled.

"It may well happen that we will let you eat your own grain," Khrushchev told a group of American businessmen. "I do have a feeling one might not come to an agreement on the grain deal."

Khrushchev complained especially about high American shipping rates.

"There is argument now on the cost of transportation," he said. "The U.S. is insisting on shipping only in U.S.-owned ships. The transportation costs for American-owned vessels are greater than they are for vessels owned by other nations and we don't want to pay any unnecessary premium."

SIU Man Gives Up To RCMP

MONTREAL (UPI)—One of two men sought on warrants charging they conspired with waterfront union leader Hal Banks to beat up a rival union official gave himself up to police here today and the other was arrested at Port Colborne, Ont.

Eldon "Jack" Richardson, 38, walked into the Montreal Royal Canadian Mounted Police office with his attorney, Myer Gross, and was scheduled to be arraigned this afternoon (about 2:30 p.m., EST).

The second man, Ernest P. Carsh, 37, was arrested by Royal Canadian Mounted Police when his ship docked at Port Colborne during the night and was being brought here for a court appearance.

Gross said Carsh probably would be arraigned Thursday. Banks, barely boss of the Canadian branch of the Seafarers' International Union, was arraigned here Tuesday and freed on $2,000 cash bond pending preliminary hearing Nov. 12.

All three were charged with conspiring to assault Capt. Henry F. Walsh, an organizer of a rival union, at Owen Sound, Ont., in 1957.

Trainmen Killed

QUINCY, Wash. (AP)—An eastbound Great Northern local freight train missed a siding and crashed into a waiting westbound main line freight here Wednesday. Two trainmen were killed and several injured.

Biggest Crop In History

OTTAWA (CP)—The biggest Prairie wheat crop in Canadian history—703,000,000 bushels—was estimated today by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics on the basis of yields indicated on Oct. 15, when the bulk of the harvest had been completed.

'Could Have Meant War'

MOSCOW (AP)—Premier Khrushchev said today that if the convoy dispute on the Berlin autobahn had continued there might have been shooting—perhaps total war.

Speaking to a group of visiting American businessmen, Khrushchev said it was good the argument had ended, otherwise "it is possible that you and I would not be here today."

He added: "We could not have yielded and they would have had to move over our dead bodies."

Khrushchev said the dispute was solved only because the American convoy commander finally agreed to "observe the established procedure" regarding Soviet checking of the convoy.

In Berlin, U.S. authorities said precisely the opposite. They told correspondents that the Russians—not the Americans—had backed down. The argument was whether the American troops should get out of their trucks to be counted by Soviet border officials.

Khrushchev warned that "more trouble" may be coming on the East German autobahn to Berlin. He said Western convoys "will be held up in the future."

If American, French and British authorities fail to observe what he called "established procedures,"

In further comment on the convoy incident, Khrushchev said:

"As soon as the commanders of the convoy agreed to observe the same procedure which has been in force for many years, they were allowed immediately to pass through.

'No Reason for Them to Sit There'

"There was no reason whatsoever for American soldiers to sit there for two days waiting to be allowed to go through."

In fact, I was surprised that they could stay in their trucks for such a long time. They must have reserve capacity. But that is an internal matter and I don't think I should go into it."

He also asserted: "Your side caused the friction. We didn't want to have friction of that sort. Our desire is to have good and friendly relations and to develop economic relations."

After Khrushchev made his remark about the possibility of "dead bodies" on the autobahn, Richard Clurman, chief of correspondents, Time—Life news service, asked him:

"Are you saying that if we can't agree over the procedure on the autobahn that you would give an order that would result in shooting and possible war?"

Khrushchev replied: "No, we have no such order but there is an established procedure. If this procedure is not followed, then they are not allowed to pass through."

"It is a matter of a soldier being a soldier. He has operational instructions and if someone wants to break through then it is in the natural course of things that force will be met by force."

"It is something that is based on standing orders. A soldier is not a foreign minister. He cannot enter into negotiations and he has to carry out his orders."

"That is the law both for our soldiers and for yours."

'One-in-a-Million' Mishap Kills Hunter

BOZEMAN, Mont. (AP)—An explosion of a high-velocity rifle cartridge or cartridges killed a Bozeman hunter, coroner Alexander M. Schmall reports. He calls it a "one-in-a-million happening."

"We don't know what set off the explosion, but he definitely was not shot," says Schmall.

The body of Victor Vermillion, 25, was found Tuesday near a deer he apparently had killed and partially cleaned in Bridger Canyon. His rifle was nearby.

The coroner says the cartridges were in Vermillion's shirt pocket.

He adds: "As far as we know he was not hit by a rifle slug. Death was from a cartridge explosion. There's definitely no bullet in the man, only fragments of the explosion."

Pension Principle Accepted by Ontario

By VICTOR MACKIE

Times Ottawa Bureau

OTTAWA—The province of Ontario has accepted the principle of a national federal portable pension plan but it would like a plan different in several respects from that put forward by the Liberal administration at Ottawa, it was learned here today.

This has emerged from the talks held last week between the federal government's technical committee and the Ontario government's technical committee.

The federal government's committee will meet this week with the Quebec government's technical committee. Quebec has, of course, opted out of the federal scheme. However, it has agreed to meet with the federal technical committee to work out details such as how federal employees residing in Quebec would be covered.

There will be intensive discussions on the federal pension scheme at the Dominion provincial conference to be held in Ottawa commencing Nov. 25. That conference is expected to continue for the whole week.

Prime Minister L. B. Pearson made it clear in the Commons last Monday that there is "no slackening in the determination" of his government that Canada should have a national contributory portable pension plan. "That is going to be done and will be done as quickly as can be," he stressed.

They'd Go to Sea in Ships — If They Only Had Some Water

CAUSAPSCAL, Que (CP)—

Mayor George Barriault kept his eyes discreetly lowered, but the alderman and about 60 taxpayers at the Causapscal council meeting roared with laughter Tuesday night at a letter from the federal transport department proposing to establish a maritime industry at Causapscal "if the port facilities are adequate."

The letter said the measure is being considered because Causapscal has been listed as an "economically feasible" area.

The department posed two conditions.

One was that Causapscal should not now have a maritime industry. (The secretary-treasurer had to stop reading the letter at this point until the laughter died down.)

The second was that Causapscal should have certain port facilities for such an industry. (Here the audience went into paroxysms of laughter.)

Causapscal is in the Notre-Dame Mountains, 750 feet above sea level and about 50 miles from either the St. Lawrence River or the Baie des Chaleurs.

"We'll tell the federal government to dig a canal first," said an alderman.

ROUND-A-BOUT

By DOUGLAS HILLSIDE

Last week The Times probed the question of whether a white-on-white painting displayed at the Art Gallery was "for real."

We drew a comparison with the famous fable of the king who was victimized by unscrupulous tailors. They told him the thread in his garments was so fine it could not be seen—and he wore the clothes proudly.

It was a child, too young to take part in the self-delusion who announced that the king was naked and snapped him out of his dream state.

Oddly (?) enough, a Victoria eight-year-old girl chanced upon our photo of the white-on-white art.

Wendy Louise Basham, 1808 San Pedro, told her mother, "Oh look, here's a picture in a frame, all ready to be drawn."

So she drew a house in the frame. We are sending it to the Art Gallery and suggest it be exhibited.

Tromp on the brakes, boys. She's not in town after all. But she was close. Checking out the rumor that sexy-singer Ertha Kitt was in Victoria Tuesday, we found that she was at Pat Bay but no nearer. She was flying TCA Seattle to Vancouver which makes a brief stop at the International Airport. Sorry.

Albertans are either B.C.'s most regular ferry travellers or else they're fonder of signing their names than anyone else.

Government ferry manager Monty Aldous says that more Albertans sign the ferry guest books than anyone in Canada and the U.S.

More than 20,000 signatures were recorded this summer on the ferries, 21 per cent of them Alberta names.

Next came Ontario and California with 15 per cent each. There were names from every province and every state.

Are you still wondering what to do with all that Halloween loot? Here is what Mrs. W. F. Graham's children and their pals did—they stuffed empty toilet paper rolls with the candy, wrapped them with Christmas paper and added them to the collection of Christmas crackers to be sent to children in Korea.

Mrs. W. W. McGill, local representative of Save the Children Fund has been sending Christmas crackers to children in Korea for many years but this is the first time that Halloween "trick-or-treats" turned out to be Santa Claus.

Slow-poke drivers are more of a hazard than motorists who simply exceed the speed limit, says the B.C. Automobile Association.

The association quotes Dr. James L. Malfetti, executive of Columbia University's safety research and education project.

"Police are far too easy on slow-poke drivers," says the doctor, "and concentrate too much of their time and attention on those who exceed the speed limit by a few miles per hour."

Dr. Malfetti believes safety is best served when all the vehicles in a traffic stream are moving at about the same rate of speed—with a minimum of overtaking and passing.

Bishop Remi de Roo, Roman Catholic Bishop of Victoria, hopes to be back here before Christmas to celebrate the first anniversary of his installation Dec. 20, a spokesman at the Bishop's residence said today.

The 39-year-old bishop is attending the Vatican Council in Rome.

Rudy Seyfort, the Victoria sculptor whose smooth work in western red cedar has attracted so much attention, took off for New York Tuesday where he will receive an award for his art today.

"It'll be a flying visit for Rudy—I only have half a day in New York," he told me—and he'll be back here Thursday night, if airline schedules pan out as expected.

FOR IMPAIRED DRIVERS

Magistrates Cool On Interdict Plan

Victoria magistrates will not follow the lead of West Vancouver Magistrate Alfred Watts.

The mainland magistrate has warned motorists he will automatically put convicted impaired drivers on the liquor interdict list along with other penalties.

Both Magistrate William Ostler and Magistrate A. J. Thomas indicated they will judge each case on its merits rather than go for a blanket policy.

Persons placed on the interdict list cannot legally purchase liquor.

Magistrate Watts followed up his warning by putting an impaired driver on the list, fining him $200 and prohibiting him from driving for three years.

"Certainly in many cases (interdict) would be merited and would have a salutary effect," said Magistrate Ostler.

"However, it is doubtful whether in all cases it would be warranted."

HIGHEST IN CANADA

James Bay Anglers Win Service Award

Art Andrews, secretary of the James Bay Anglers' Association, represented the group in Montreal Tuesday to accept the highest community service award in Canada.

The award, a ship's bell mounted on a walnut stand, is presented annually by the Canadian Tourist Association and the Allied Boating Association to the community association which has done the best job in promoting pleasure boating.

The well-deserved win is based on the excellent launching facilities the association has built between the Ogden Point docks and VMD all through voluntary labor.

The original 38 members has now grown to 900, and as many as 500 boats are launched over a weekend.

The original group took advantage of fill going in to expand Victoria Machinery Depot facilities, and obtained VMD's unofficial co-operation. Members pitched in to build concrete launching ramps, clubhouse, and restrooms, all tastefully designed and kept in paint-fresh condition.

Not content to rest on its laurels, the association is now seeking a breakwater so they can build a boat basin and create a swimming pool for children.

Magistrate Thomas took the same stand and added he doubted that the interdict would work because it would be difficult for liquor vendors to recognize all persons convicted of impaired driving.

D. LEO DOLAN

"Just the man"

'Mr Tourism' Interested In City Post

The "Mr. Tourism" of Canada is reported interested in settling here as new commissioner for the Victoria Visitors' Bureau.

Victoria alderman Geoffrey Edgelow revealed Tuesday that he had heard that D. Leo Dolan would "like to live in Victoria."

Ald. Edgelow said Mr. Dolan would be just the man to get the Island's two new major tourist bureaus rolling.

Mayor R. B. Wilson, travelling East soon, told the Visitors' Bureau he would call on Mr. Dolan if he shows any interest in the post.

VITAL PART

Dolan, a 68-year-old former newspaper reporter, became chief of the Canadian Travel Bureau upon its establishment in 1954, and is credited with making tourism a vital part of Canada's economy.

He was Canadian consul-general in Los Angeles from 1957 to 1960, and has been president of the Canadian Association of Tourist and Publicity Bureaus.

He was also first president of the Inter-American Travel Congress.

Mr. Dolan is now retired and living in Ontario.

The Visitors' Bureau has had 46 applications for the position.

The resignation of commissioner William Hawkins will become effective November 30.

Atomic-Age Hospital Dedicated

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—A Canadian-born doctor saw his dream of a revolutionary new hospital concept come true here last week as the world's first atomic hospital was dedicated.

Industrial, business, medical and scientific leaders joined in the ceremonies officially opening the 22-room facility designed to utilize space, age equipment and reduce hospital costs significantly.

Dr. Hugh MacGuire, a Vancouver native who originated the idea of an atomic hospital, described the concept of how medicine would open its heart to industry and science.

FIRST PROTOTYPE

"Today we dedicate the first prototype of an atomic hospital in which after more than eight years we can actually organize our research efforts," he told the 300 guests.

He said his hope is to find a way of producing a system of hospitals that can circle the globe "at a cost that everyone can afford."

Atomedics is a term coined to describe atomic-age medicine and MacGuire says he hopes to utilize the most modern equipment available.

The present hospital will include computers to record automatically such things as a patient's temperature. It is relayed by tiny transducers that can be strapped on the patient. MacGuire emphasizes that the hospital is designed to relieve nurses and doctors of many routine duties which in turn will free them to devote more time to patient and their illnesses.

'St. Lawrence For Us... Real for You'

Canada's east-west schism got a thorough going-over at the hands of French and English students at University of Victoria Tuesday.

One of the special student events during French Canada Week was the appearance on campus of four Quebec students who argued separatism with their English-speaking counterparts.

Victoria students barraged questions at their visitors, who replied spiritedly and with humor.

Solution of many problems lies in revision of the British North America Act, itself the result of negative factors, said Ronald Montcalm, University of Montreal and vice-president of the Canadian Union of Students.

'LEAVE YOU CAQUETTE'

"We'll take the St. Lawrence and leave you Caquette," said another when asked if Quebec would take its share of the national debt if it formed a separate state.

Secession will come within four years, predicted law student Pierre Hogue, Sherbrooke University, if firm steps are not taken to give French Canada "equal rights."

He wants Quebec representation in the United Nations.

Amount of Quebec participation in celebrating Canada's 100th birthday in four years was cast in doubt by Mr. Montcalm, who pointed out that the French would be asked to rejoice a situation with which they don't agree.

Laval University sent representatives Louis Dudois and Denoit Mailleux.

Today's program was to be a talk on separatism by the Franciscan priest William Collins, of Lumsden, Sask., retreat house.

Thursday students will see the film Seul ou Avec d'Autres, also on the subject of separatism.

On Friday Pierre Bourgault, editor of L'Indépendance, will speak on French Canadian Culture. The newspaper is the voice of the Rally of National Independence.

All programs are at 12:30 p.m. in Lansdowne auditorium.

'Don't Curb Pleasure Boaters'

MONTREAL (CP)—The Canadian Tourists Association opposes any further legislative restrictions on pleasure boating in Canada.

The association said in one of three resolutions at the group's annual convention that operating rules for pleasure boating are "second to none" and generally adequate.

The resolution recognized that waterside boating facilities "have fallen behind the growth of the recreation itself" and supported their expansion.

Other resolutions dealt with highways. One called for a system linking international, interprovincial, resource and local roads in a national grid.

A second recommended historic names and titles for key roads, such as the Cabot Trail in Cape Breton Island. The resolution mentioned that explorer Samuel de Champlain's Quebec route to the Great Lakes could be titled Champlain's Trail.

APPLICATION HERE THURSDAY

NDP Seeks Court Action To Nullify Burrard Vote

The New Democratic Party is asking the courts to nullify the provincial election in the riding of Vancouver Burrard.

Lawyer John N. Laxton of Vancouver said he will apply to the B.C. Supreme Court in Victoria on Thursday.

He is acting for defeated NDP candidates Tom Berger and Paddy Neale.

Mr. Laxton said the protest is on the grounds that eligible voters were illegally struck off the voting list.

Electoral officials in Victoria said they could not recall any similar case in B.C., although a Victoria municipal election was voided in 1911.

SOCREDS WON

Vancouver Burrard was won on Sept. 30 by Socreds Health Minister Eric Martin and Bert Price.

Mr. Berger said that investigations since indicate 2,000 people were dropped from the voters' list.

'10,000 Jobs Lost

QUEBEC (CP)—The federal government's decision to abandon its frigate construction program will mean 10,000 men in Canadian shipyards will lose their jobs, Richard Lowrey, president of Davie Shipbuilding, said Tuesday. In the firm's yards at nearby Lauzon no navy orders are foreseen for after December, Mr. Lowrey told a press conference. By that time the firm's conversion of the destroyer Crescent will be completed.

An electoral official said he knew of no cases where eligible people were struck off. There were cases of eligible people left off the list because they didn't register, he said, but this is not the responsibility of officials.

Mr. Berger said enough people were struck off to affect the result on September 30.

$500 BOND

Mr. Martin polled 10,994 votes; Mr. Price 10,435. Mr. Berger got 10,130 votes; Mr. Neale 8,884.

Their application, which requires a $500 bond, will be heard by a Supreme Court judge, in the riding.

If the judge supported it, he would then send a certificate to the Legislature, declaring the two seats vacant. There would then have to be a new election.

NDP and Opposition Leader Robert Strachan said the decision to contest the election was made by the Burrard NDP Association.

"We are taking this action because a large number of voters—enough to make it possible the outcome would have been different—were illegally left off the voters' list," he said.

Mr. Strachan said the application will give the Socred "establishment" a second chance to hold "a democratic election."

180 ROWDIES UNDER ARREST

LONDON (Reuters)—Some 180 persons—mostly teenagers—were arrested in the heart of London Tuesday night and early today after clashes between police and people celebrating Guy Fawkes Day.

Centre of the rowdy behavior was Trafalgar Square where hundreds of shouting, jostling teenagers exploded fireworks. Youths and girls also plunged fully clothed into one of the square's fountains.

Power Tie-Up Urged

WASHINGTON (AP)—The interior department proposed Tuesday a high-voltage, direct-current transmission line interconnecting federal power systems of the Pacific Northwest, California and the Colorado River dams.

Why Was Banks' Arrest Delayed for 13 Days?

By KEN KELLY

OTTAWA (CP)—Opposition MPs say they plan to demand that Justice Minister Chevrier explain to the Commons on what authority a warrant for the arrest of Hal Banks was not executed for 13 days.

PM WINDS UP TWO-WAY CAMPAIGN

KINROSS, Scotland (UPI)—Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home today wound up his two-fold campaign for winning a seat in the House of Commons and halting the Conservative party's slide toward possible defeat in the next general elections.

Residents of the constituency of Kinross-West Perthshire will vote in a by-election Thursday.

Douglas-Home is expected to win from his six opponents but the size of his majority is considered vitally important to his party.

With the next general elections due any time within the next 11 months, the Conservatives have little time to build the prime minister into a solid vote-getter.

An impressive victory here would be a good first step. A sharply reduced majority could be disastrous.

Living Costs Edge Up

OTTAWA (CP)—Living costs in Canada during September rose fractionally compared with August but were still below the record reached in July, the Bureau of Statistics said today.

The consumer price index, based on 1949 prices equalling 100, rose in the month by two-tenths of a point to 133.6 at October 1 from 133.4 a month earlier. The record was 133.9 at August 1.

The October index was 2.1 points above the October, 1962, index of 131.5.

A decline of nine-tenths of a point in the food index in September dampened the effect of increases in all but one of the six other main indexes. The tobacco and alcohol index was unchanged.

While living costs were up slightly in September, there was no change in average industrial wages during August. The index of average industrial wages and salaries at September 1 was 193.8, unchanged from a month earlier, but up from 188.1 at September 1, 1962.

Mr. Chevrier told the Commons Tuesday that the arrest warrant was issued "contemporaneously with or immediately following" the laying of charges against Banks, president of the Seafarers' International Union of Canada.

Banks was charged Oct. 23 with conspiracy to commit assault occasioning bodily harm. The warrant was executed and Banks was taken into custody at Montreal Tuesday, 13 days later.

Progressive Conservative and New Democratic Party MPs argue that Mr. Chevrier hinted in the Commons Tuesday that the course of justice was suspended with regard to the warrant for Banks' arrest.

Arrest warrants instruct peace officers "forthwith" to arrest the accused and bring him before a judge or magistrate.

Mr. Chevrier said "these warrants were not executed immediately upon being taken out."

They weren't issued by the time Banks appeared in Ottawa Oct. 24 to confer with the government-appointed trustees who have taken control of the SIU and four other maritime unions, Mr. Chevrier said.

The meeting that day arranged to halt an illegal walkout by 2,000 SIU sailors.

Opposition MPs indicated that Mr. Chevrier's statement might be interpreted to mean the RCMP were instructed not to serve the warrant and arrest Banks although the warrant commands them to arrest him and bring him before the court forthwith.

Their aim is to have Mr. Chevrier answer two questions arising from his statements:

1. Was the RCMP instructed to delay executing the warrant to arrest Banks and, if so, by whom?

2. Why was such an instruction given if it was?

Labor Leader Dies

HALIFAX (UPI)—Veteran British Columbia and Nova Scotia labor leader Harold Alphonso (Pat) Shea died today. He was 62.

Shea was an organizer in B.C. after the Second World War and became a member of the executive of the B.C. Federation of Labor. At the time of his death he was employed at HMC Dockyard in Halifax.

PENTICTON ASKING FOR TROUBLE

PENTICTON (CP)—City council has considered the case of the pregnant clerks.

It heard about the new problem in a paragraph of the finance and administration report submitted this week. Said the report:

"Due to the number of married female employees on the city hall staff and the probability of this group increasing in future, it is considered necessary to declare a policy regarding pregnancy."

"In this regard, it is recommended that female employees becoming pregnant automatically terminate their employment with the city of Penticton."

Date of job termination, suggested the report, should be set by the city administrator.

Cambridge Women Make Grade

CAMBRIDGE, England (AP)—Women may join the Cambridge Union Society—the university's famous debating club—for the first time in its 148-year history.

Members voted 449 to 180 Monday night to let the girls in. Thirty previous polls had kept them out.

Lois Radice, 19-year-old economics student, was among the first to join.

"A wonderful night for the women of Cambridge," she said. "At last the men have had to admit that we are their equal."

The girls will get their first chance at debate next Tuesday when the motion will be:

"The death of the party is ridiculous."

Stiff Prison Terms For Two Holdup Men

VANCOUVER (CP)—Two holdup men were sentenced to a total of 15 years in the penitentiary Tuesday in a court crackdown in the face of a recent rash of armed robberies in the city.

Alfred John Ramsay, 26, was given 10 years for attempting to hold up an Imperial Bank branch here Oct. 30. He got nothing.

Martin Lazare, 18, was given five years for a $110 knife hold-up of a confectionery store on Sept. 25.

Commented Magistrate Gordon Scott in passing sentence:

"There has been a great series of holdups, including bank holdups. They have become an almost daily affair. I propose to deal with them severely. There is no room for leniency in these cases."

STRUGGLED FOR GUN, NEW LEADERS CLAIM

'Accidental Suicides'

SAIGON (AP)—South Viet Nam's revolutionary government claimed today President Ngo Dinh Diem and his brother Ngo Dinh Nhu committed "accidental suicide"—they were killed while struggling for a guard's pistol.

The latest official version of the death of the brothers contradicted widely believed accounts that they were murdered by rebel troops in an armored personnel carrier last Saturday after they surrendered at a Roman Catholic church.

The military revolutionary council announced Saturday that Diem and Nhu, his closest adviser, shot themselves.

Today, Brig-Gen. Tran Tu Oai, minister of information in the new provisional government, gave this account to a press conference:

"After the brothers surrendered Diem entered the armored car but Nhu protested.

An army captain tried to push Nhu into the carrier, but Nhu whipped around and grabbed the captain's pistol. As they wrestled for the weapon, the officer managed to drag Nhu into the car.

Oai gave no further details.

The bodies have been turned over to relatives for burial, the spokesman said. The bodies were reported to have been hidden awaiting burial instructions from another brother, Roman Catholic Archbishop Ngo Dinh Thuc, who is attending the Vatican ecumenical council in Rome.

Asked if the military revolutionary council would request the extradition of Nhu's wife, who is in the United States, Oai said:

"Our military people don't make revolutions for the sake of avenging or revenging."

"We are not paying any attention to questions of this sort, but as a courtesy we have sent her three children to Rome."

Gen. Oai refused to say what the revolutionary government has in store for another brother of Diem, Ngo Dinh Can, who was turned over to the junta after he sought asylum in the U.S. consulate in Hue Tuesday.

Can was his brother's overlord in central Viet Nam and is widely hated there. U.S. officials said the junta assured them he would receive "due process of law." The government is expected to put him on trial and sentence him to death or a long prison term.

The official Viet Nam Press agency announced that the ruling military revolutionary council had formed a 12-member executive committee of generals headed by Chairman Maj-Gen. Duong van Minh, leader of the coup that toppled Diem, and the new chief of staff.

Madam Nhu Too Broke To Fly to Meet Children?

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Mme. Ngo Dinh Nhu was expected to move out of her $90-a-day hotel today and set up house-keeping in the Los Angeles area for herself and her four children.

South Viet Nam's widowed former first lady changed her mind late Tuesday about joining her three younger children in Rome today. She said she'd fly there instead as soon as possible.

Mme. Nhu said she "could not endure the trip at this time," according to George White, manager of the Beverly Wilshire Hotel where she has been staying.

Mme. Nhu has been offered use of the home of Allen Chase, an associate of Canadian-born television star Art Linkletter, in the exclusive Bel-Air district. Mrs. Chase said she had received no definite word as yet whether Mme. Nhu will accept the offer.

Chase, who has business connections in Australia and the Orient, met late president Diem several times in Saigon, Mrs. Chase explained.

The children, ages 15, 11 and 4, were flown to Rome Tuesday with permission of the new government of South Viet Nam, which overthrew the ruling family of president Ngo Dinh Diem Friday in a military coup. The children were in the highland resort of Dalat northeast of Saigon during the revolt.

Mme. Nhu had been scheduled to leave this morning on a polar flight to Rome with her eldest daughter, Le Thuy, 18, and her Vietnamese secretary, Nguyen Thi Tuan, 29, who had accompanied her on her trip abroad.

Informed sources said Mme. Nhu's decision to remain in the United States may have been influenced by financial problems, possible difficulty in obtaining a visa to return here, an outpouring of sympathy for her in thousands of messages from Americans and profitable offers of speaking engagements and magazine articles.

Mme. Nhu also was believed to be worn out by the emotional strain brought on by the downfall of the Diem government, the deaths of Diem and her husband, Ngo Dinh Nhu, the country's political strong man, and her anxiety over the welfare of her three younger children.

A source close to Mme. Nhu said that she left Saigon five weeks ago with $5,000 spending money for herself, her daughter and her secretary. He said she had no money banked abroad.

SEPARATISM LEARNED FROM CLERGY

VANCOUVER (CP)—Father William Collins, a Quebec-trained Franciscan priest, says French-Canadians have learned separatism from their clergy.

Speaking at a French-Canada week seminar at the University of British Columbia Tuesday, the Montreal-trained priest who now lives in Saskatchewan said:

"Many a sermon in Quebec was pronounced on one separatist idea—lose your language, lose your faith."

"The people were to a certain extent brainwashed into believing that speaking English meant speaking Protestant."

'Made in Japan'

BEFORE the last war I had definite opinions about goods made in Japan and sold in local stores. As far as I was concerned, they were gaudy, cheap and worth no more than the price marked on them.

I had seen, in a Victoria shop window, the British Crown Jewels offered for $5.79. I would not have been surprised. I'd have known that when you picked up the gilded tin with its bright glass gems, you'd have found "Made in Japan" stamped on the bottom.

Like a few million other Canadians, I'd come to expect gimcrackery and junk to bear that label.

This was the impression inscribed on minds younger in 1939 than they are today. And for some time the impression lingered.

Pat, who shared the viewpoint with me, was talking about it the other day. In the late '50s, she said, she'd picked up a small radio in Seattle because it was half the price such models sold for here. At the time she'd looked at an inexpensive and small transistor set, but she'd rejected it because the instrument was made in Japan.

"It wasn't," she said, "until some time later that I learned the Japanese made the best transistors in the world. I passed up a bargain. Same with cameras, too, I hear."

Gradually, we Canadians have learned that when Japan wants to, she can produce craftsmanship in export goods equal to any other country. Because it's made in Japan, it is no longer necessarily junk.

I have wondered about this transformation which raised Japanese manufacture, in Canadian eyes, from an extreme low in durability and worth to a new high in excellence and craftsmanship.

"How," I asked Sid Oue, associate director of the Japanese Trade Centre in Toronto—and a transplanted Vancouver native—"did the Japanese develop such skillful techniques and high standards in the short time between the end of the war and today?"

Sid doesn't think that development has occurred in the last 15 to 18 years—and he offers an explanation that makes his position seem strong.

"Before the war," Sid says, "Japan catered heavily to the Asiatic market, chiefly China. China had millions of people who wanted to buy, but none of them, or very few, had much money. So Japan made what the Chinese masses could afford. That was the country's export commodity. What wasn't sold in China, the leftover, was shipped to other parts of the world, Canada included. A lot of it was what you call junk."

"But," he added, "this wasn't the stuff Japan was making for the Japanese who could afford to buy. The craftsmen were there. Their product was high quality. On the domestic market, it had to be."

"So when the war was over and the Chinese market was gone, Japan stepped up its production of high standard merchandise for export to North America, where the customers can afford to pay for it."

"The ability to produce was always there, maybe raised above average by Japanese appreciation for arts and handicrafts. All that was needed was a market."

When Canada and the United States let Japan know that North Americans wanted something better than the "shoddy" from Japanese factories, Japan provided it.

You can still get gimcrackery, if you desire. And when you ask for quality merchandise, you pay more for it. But there isn't much reason for me to hold onto my prewar concept that "Made in Japan" means cheap goods—any way you want to define "cheap."

I thank Sid Oue for a short lesson in practical economics—and perhaps a lesson in practical philosophy also. What Japan has done to its exports might be applied equally to producers in other fields, entertainment, for instance.

If the customers want something better than the incredibly shoddy stuff pushed at them by some entertainment media, they have only to show a market for material of higher standard. We just raise the lowest common denominator a little, and prove to the producers that anything less won't sell.

YOUR HEALTH

By DR. WALTER ALVAREZ

Need for Fluoridation

It is a sorrow when I hear from people who are sure they know much more about the care of children's teeth than does a man like Dr. Frederick J. Stare, who is Professor of Nutrition at Harvard University. My correspondents send me strange literature from unknown men and ask me why I do not accept it.

Whenever a question of public health comes up, naturally I inform myself about it. I always read the "violent literature" so as to learn why some people are objecting to a valuable measure which has been advocated by all of the great health organizations. No one seems to question the fact that the fluoridation of water will cut in half the number of cavities in the teeth of a city's children. Then why object to it?

A common argument I find is that fluorine is used as a rat poison. No one would deny that it is poisonous—if taken in large doses. In Europe, ordinary table salt in large amounts—was used by girls to commit suicide! But when fluoride is taken in a dose of one or two parts in a million parts of water, it is perfectly harmless, as every chemist knows.

Many people object to fluoridation, saying that it invades their constitutional rights. Several eminent U.S. supreme court judges have decided that this not true, and I read that the U.S. supreme court has five times dismissed the appeals of the foes of fluoridation.

The opponents of fluoridation claim that in cities in which the water is treated, there is an extra amount of illness and death. U.S. experts on vital statistics have investigated this claim and found it to be false.

I have read that both President Kennedy and Dwight D. Eisenhower have looked into this problem and have approved of fluoridation. It has been approved by all the great organizations, such as the American Medical Association, the American Dental Association, and the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Many good sensible people have told me they have been confused by the fact that there are a few men with an "M.D." after their names who have written against fluoridation. This makes people feel that there is still some doubt about it. The important point is that there isn't any doubt among the experts of great health organizations. We must remember that we can find a few eccentrics and violent dissenters against things in any big group. I have read even of doctors who joined with the antivivisectionists, as they struggled to close up the great research laboratories, where men are working day and night, searching for the cures for cancer and other terrible diseases.

HOME GARDEN

By HILDA BEASTALL

Is It Really a Rubber Plant?

Every winter we see one or two magnificent pot plants of the so-called Chinese-jade in bloom, but there are probably several hundreds of the same plant in Victoria homes which never have the chance to bloom.

The chief reason could be that the plants (botanically Crassula argentea) are frequently called Rubber-plants (which are correctly Ficus elastica) by their owners, and the care of a Rubber-plant is just about opposite to that for a Chinese-jade.

In appearance the two plants do not even resemble one another—the Jade has many small, thick leaves no more than an inch-and-a-half long, while the Rubber-plant leaves are few (four or five make a large plant), leathery, and a foot or so long by four or five inches wide.

The Chinese-jade is a fine looking small tree for a pot, and when only four or five years old from a cutting can be brought into bloom if treated right.

A six-inch-pot is usually large enough for a flowering size plant. When given too much root space, blooming will be delayed.

The place for the Jade-tree is in a sunny window where the temperature goes up in summer to 80 deg. F. or higher.

Water can then be given whenever the soil becomes dry on top, but continual moisture only makes soft, droopy branches without bloom.

The flower buds can usually be seen by the beginning of November. They develop slowly, still in a sunny spot, until near Christmas the flattish heads of dainty, starry pinkish white blossoms open up.

It can be a full two-month display of bloom from the time the first ones open, for individually the flowers are long lasting.

During the winter, water is given only about once or twice a week, but to keep the plant healthy it needs all the light possible. Turning it half way around daily helps to expose all parts equally to the sun.

CIVIC, STATE VOTING

Democrats Win, Margins Sliced

WASHINGTON (CP-AP) — Democrats kept control today of such keenly contested posts as the Kentucky and Mississippi governorships and the mayor's office in Philadelphia.

Despite their defeat, the Republicans cut heavily into the Democratic vote in the south, although San Francisco elected a Democrat as mayor for the first time in 55 years.

Elections were held in many parts of the United States Tuesday on the state and local level primarily.

In Philadelphia, Democrats kept their grip on city hall by about 67,000 votes—their smallest margin in a mayoral race in 12 years.

In all of these races — plus some others—the issue of civil rights figured. Politicians will be studying the tallies to learn, for example, whether a so-called "white backlash" against the militant Negro drive for more and better jobs, freer choice of housing and other aims, will hurt President Kennedy next year.

Republicans could look with satisfaction on such states as Indiana—where dozens of mayors' posts switched from Democratic to Republican. But the Indianapolis city hall stayed Democratic by a narrow margin.

Kennedy could take no comfort from the Mississippi governorship result because both the winner Democratic Lieutenant-Governor Paul Johnson and the loser Republican Rubel Phillips made a point of opposing him and integration. Johnson drew 172,237 votes and Phillips 191,605.

The victor in the Philadelphia mayoralty fight was Democratic Mayor James H. J. Tate, for whom Kennedy made a campaign sortie. Loser was James T. McDermott, 37, a lawyer who never has held public office.

The Republican national committee saw "a definite Republican trend" in much of the balloting.

The Democratic national committee withheld any statement until later today.

In New York City, voters backed 3 to 1 for a proposal to legalize off-track betting on the horses. Since the vote was only advisory, any action will be up to the state legislature.

New Jersey rejected Democratic Governor Richard J. Hughes' plan for $750,000,000 bond issues to finance mental institutions, schools and highways.

Republicans also retained control of the state Senate and took over the Assembly.

In Virginia, Democrats held control of the legislature but Republicans made gains.

In San Francisco, near-complete returns showed 12-year congressman John F. Shelly ahead of his closest rival, Republican supervisor Harold Dobbs by 114,790 to 88,954.

In Kentucky, a still-incomplete count showed Democratic Edward T. Breathitt Jr. the winner for the governorship, but by only about 15,000 votes out of about 860,000 votes thus far counted. His Republican opponent was Louie B. Nunn.

A Toronto lawyer who thinks university dropouts for lack of money are ridiculous was here last week to explain how anyone with ability can have higher education.

Peter Wright, 33, is president of Canadian Scholarship Trust Foundation, a three-year-old non-profit federal corporation that helps Canadians save money for their children's future education.

Mr. Wright, one of a long list of unpaid foundation and advisory board directors, spends 25 to 40 per cent of his time working for the foundation.

He became interested in the financing plan because as a lawyer he could see the need and the possibilities.

"We've seen the problem ourselves—people beside us at university suddenly leave because of money problems. This is ridiculous," Mr. Wright said.

The cost of administration is borne by a $100 deduction from the savings. No further charge is made.

When the child is ready to enter university, the money on deposit is returned to the saver to pay the first year's expenses, with any left-over cash going back to the saver.

When the child completes first-year university, he is eligible automatically for a scholarship to cover the following years, a year at a time.

There are more than 1,000 B.C. children enrolled in the plan today, with between 100 and 200 registrations per month, said Wayne Robinson, provincial enrollment director.

Across the country, people in the plan have deposited more than $2,000,000 with Eastern Trust Co.

BELIEVED BEST

"I have no doubt that our plan is the most advantageous way of saving for a university education. To some there are more favorable ways, but we're non-competitive," he points out.

The plan may be undertaken by a parent, guardian, relative or other persons or organization.

The adult agrees to put in trust monthly or annual sums for any child up to the age of eight, the age of the child determining the amount of deposits.

It is a savings account and always remains the property of the saver, who may withdraw it on 60 days' notice.

He sacrifices the interest earned by his money, which goes into a co-operative trust fund to provide scholarship for students who qualify under the plan.

NO VIRTUE

Under such a system, Mr. Wright sees little virtue in the old principle of pay-as-you-go.

"I can't for the life of me see why a man has to work three years as a bellhop in a hotel to pay his way through university," he remarked.

The organization is setting up a series of $1,800 scholarships, to be repaid after two interest-free years, as another means of helping university students.

Once the money problem is solved, directors want to help students in an advisory capacity. Mr. Wright called the lack of direction one of the most pressing matters.

"We graduate too many engineers, too few engineering technicians," he said as an example.

Even Art Experts Can't Agree On Authenticity of Paintings

TORONTO (UPI) — Testimony given at an art fraud trial Tuesday may make it difficult for owners of expensive, original Canadian paintings to sleep nights.

The preliminary hearing of two Toronto art dealers charged with selling phony paintings attributed to famous Canadian artists was told that even art experts can't agree on the authenticity of some paintings.

The disturbing fact came to light during cross-examination of Russell Harper, curator of Canadian art at the National Gallery in Ottawa, by prominent Toronto lawyer Joseph Sedgwick.

Harper had been called by the crown in the preliminary hearing of charges against Leslie Lewis, 61, and Neil Sharkey, 36. He testified single paintings by Cornelius Kreighoff, Emily Carr, David Milne and a group of 13 by Tom Thompson — all allegedly owned by Lewis — were fakes.

Questioned by Sedgwick, counsel for Lewis, the National Gallery curator admitted "experts do disagree" about the authenticity of some paintings.

Sedgwick mentioned a case where Harper and Arthur Lismer, director of the Montreal Museum of Fine Arts and a member of the famous Group of Seven, disagreed about whether a Thompson painting was genuine.

"If people like you and Lismer can't make up your minds, how are common people like us to know if a painting is genuine?" Sedgwick asked the curator.

Stanton Hogg, counsel for the other defendant, attempted to ask Harper if he thought any of the paintings in the Ontario museum were fakes.

EXPERT HERE

'Y' Trying to Plug Big Gap in Fitness

A physical fitness expert who practices what he preaches visited the Victoria YMCA Monday.

J. Wes McVicar, 58, YMCA national secretary for physical education, was working out at the local "Y" about an hour after he got off the plane Monday morning.

He said Canadian youths are healthy, but aren't as fit as they should be.

"The YMCA is designed to fill that gap," he said.

He credited public awareness of the need for physical fitness for the increase in "Y" membership in the past decade.

"All YMCAs throughout Canada have doubled their membership and physical participation has increased threefold since 1952," he said.

WRITTEN BOOKS

Mr. McVicar is one of the top physical fitness experts in North America and has written several books on the subject.

He prepares most of the publications used by the YMCA in its gym and swimming programs.

He has also published a book on square-dance calling, and one titled "Clown Omnibus", a collection of clown routines.

Orcades to Call Saturday Morning

Victoria's waterfront watchers will get an early morning look at the P & O-Orient liner Orcades Saturday, when the 28,000-ton cruise ship picks up pilot off Broche Ledge between 6 and 7 a.m.

She is inbound for Vancouver from London via Le Havre, Lisbon, Bermuda, Florida, Cristobal, Balboa, Acapulco, San Diego, Long Beach and San Francisco.

She is scheduled to leave Vancouver at 5 p.m. Sunday, dropping pilot between three and four hours later.

FOLK SINGERS SCORE

Unusual Serving Lapped Up at Secret

By LESLIE MILLIN
Stewart Clay has a cold, Bill Roberts has a harmonica — we call it a hump in Tennessee — and the Secret coffee house has two hits but no runs.

Stewart and Roberts are two fine folksingers who Tuesday evening were able to whomp a meagre crowd into sounding like a brimstone-crazy revival meeting.

Both are a long way off the track beaten through Victoria by previous passing balladeers, and both are worthy of big crowds during the rest of their stay, which runs through to Sunday.

Clay is a deep-dimpled banjo picker from Aspen, Colorado, who has gathered amusing and tuneful songs in such unlikely places as Washington, D.C., and his own head.

JULEP VOICE HELPS

Roberts describes himself as one of the "hip new group" — white Southerners, and his Tennessee smooth-as-mint-julep voice is a big help to his act.

Both are serving up unusual songs, with Clay successfully stressing the audience participation bit by clambering down

TO OLD COURTHOUSE

Tour Raises Hope For Museum Move

Establishment of the Bastion Square Courthouse as new home for the B.C. Maritime Museum, once it is vacated as a temporary City Hall, came closer Tuesday.

A tour of the building by museum and city officials showed it would be eminently suitable from the museum's point of view. It would also work in with the city's plans for rehabilitating Bastion Square.

The museum and city officials toured the building once before, leading to a formal request by the museum for city help in obtaining the building from the provincial government.

City officials finally did obtain the building but then found it would make an ideal temporary City Hall while the Centennial Victoria Square project is under construction.

Since then, the building has been further improved for the city's use, including rehabilitation of the elevator and installation of automatic heating equipment.

These improvements, along with changes in the interior layout, will be useful for museum purposes too, Tuesday's tour revealed.

Result of the tour, is expected to be a decision by the museum board of directors to make formal application for the building next year and submission of an estimated operating budget.

Water Petition Unnecessary Says Lawyer

No petition is needed for Saanich council to order city water piped in to the Prospect Lake area, says a lawyer who lives there.

Lake water was found in a recent survey to be too polluted to drink.

Ian Stewart, 161 Goward, flatly repudiated Reeve Stanley Murphy's statement Monday evening that council cannot order the water piped in.

"The Municipal Act gives the council all the power it needs," says Mr. Stewart.

EMERGENCY

"This is an emergency situation, and the council shouldn't have to fool around with petitions."

"There is a matter of principle involved here."

"The council has told us that our water is no good, that we ought to boil it for 10 minutes before drinking it—but they won't take any action to give us good water."

"I don't think Mr. Murphy always says things for the best interests of the community. I think he sometimes says them for the best interests of Mr. Murphy."

Mr. Stewart, who has helped lead those residents of Prospect Lake who are circulating a petition to have city water piped in, quoted section 582 subsection 2 of the Municipal Act.

It says:

"Where the work is the construction of a sewer or water main, the council may by bylaw, without petition, make all necessary connections to the parcels of land on either or both sides."

MEETING TUESDAY

Mr. Stewart says that the petition has plenty of support, more than the 50 per cent required, and will be submitted to the council soon.

Meanwhile, Prospect Lake Ratepayers' Association president Brian Hoole says that his organization will hold a meeting Tuesday evening in Prospect Lake School to discuss the pollution problem.

Savings Bond Sales Total $353 Million

The end of the month figures for the sales of the new Canada Savings Bonds show that some 706,000 Canadians have subscribed for $353 million.

Of this, $188 million came through 556,000 payroll deduction buyers.

The B.C. payroll picture shows 39,723 applications for $12,854,300 as the campaign heads for a Nov. 15 finish.

Vancouver Island stands at $1,574,600 in payroll deduction buying, close to 70 per cent of last year's final figure.

Of the 51 firms and companies with a payroll plan and organized by Bill Munro of Victoria, 19 have already exceeded last year's final.

As an example, all four B.C. Forest Products companies have 706 applications for $199,100 as against 671 for $185,500 in 1962. Seven MacMillan, Bloedel and Powell River units are over, with 1,112 applications for $396,350 against 1,091 for $344,350.

Drunken Mother Knifed Son

PRINCE GEORGE (CP)—Mrs. Theresa Fredrick was given a one year suspended sentence in court Tuesday after pleading guilty to a charge of assault causing bodily harm.

Police testified that Mrs. Fredrick was in a state of "intense intoxication" when she accused her 11-year-old son of taking money from her purse.

Evidence revealed the mother of five picked up a butcher knife and threatened to cut the boy's throat. The boy threw up his arms and suffered a deep slash to his forearm.

The woman told the court she "didn't mean to do it" and that she had stopped drinking.

The magistrate placed her on the interdict list at her own request.

WORKS BRIEFS

Nod Given
City Firm
On Towaways

City works committee Tuesday dealt with 20 items ranging over a wide field that had elevator operators' uniforms at one end and a contract for towing away illegally parked cars at the other.

Committee recommended that city council award the car towing contract to Super Service Towing Ltd. which earlier had been one of five bidders. If approved by council, the company will haul away cars illegally parked in restricted curbside lanes during rush hours but only on instructions of police.

Car owners will be subject to fines for breaking the traffic regulations and also will have to "ball out" their cars at the following rates: Towing within the half-mile circle $4.20; outside the half-mile circle $4.70; nominal storage 30 cents, storage over 12 hours $1.25.

In other traffic matters, committee recommended:

Approval sought of police commission to authorize commissioners, acting as special constables, to issue traffic tickets inside Beacon Hill Park, particularly on cars parked outside of designated parking areas.

Stop signs be erected on Balmoral Road, east and west of Camosun Street.

Formal approval to last year's plans for opening up Royal Athletic and Macdonald Parks to amateur sports teams free of charge was recommended.

Committee members voted acceptance of a recommendation by city manager Dennis Young and parks administrator W. H. Warren that amateur sports teams not charging admission should be allowed free use of the two enclosed parks.

Mr. Young added, however, that any amateur teams charging admission would still have to pay the normal percentage of the gate.

Committee also asked city council for $240 to put uniforms on the four men who operate the elevator in the temporary City Hall and another $600 to paint and clean up the old-fashioned grill-work elevator.

Mayor Wilson said the "antique" appearance of the elevator, which suited the building, would be preserved.

Mr. Garnett was instructed to discuss a request for a breakwater with the James Bay Anglers Association after he told committee a practical and cheaper way of protecting the association's launching ramp near Ogden Point would be installation of a log boom.

Council was asked to approve a five-year lease for 15 acres of Beaver Lake Park to Wooded Wonderland, at an annual rate of $750, provided Saanich council concurs. It was pointed out there are discussions going on regarding possible transfer of the land from the city to Saanich.

Freedomites
Spend Winter
In Tent Camp

AGASSIZ, B.C. (CP)—Sons of Freedom Doukhobors will stick out the winter in their tents and makeshift shacks six miles from this Fraser Valley town.

They decided Sunday that their campsite near Mountain Prison is as good as any, and convenient to the institution once they are allowed to resume visiting their prison-relatives.

Parents among the sect members also decided to send their children back to school here today. They were kept home last week when prison officials refused entry to verify a cessation of the prisoners' hunger strike.

Verden Tom Hall said permission to visit—suspended some months ago—likely would be granted this week if proper application is made by relatives.

Meanwhile, the campers are short of firewood and ready to clear brush or tear down unused farm buildings if asked.

Withdrawn

A charge of unlawful possession of narcotics against Robert R. Smith of Vancouver was withdrawn in city magistrate's court Tuesday.

Smith, arrested after a stake-out by city detectives on Millstream road Oct. 20, originally had bail set in his case at $10,000.

Today, Crown Prosecutor George Gregory told the court that, after further investigation by the RCMP, it was discovered a case could not be established against the accused.

He asked for withdrawal of the charge.

DOUG PEDEN, Sports Editor

10 Victoria Daily Times WED., NOV. 6, 1963

Hal Malone LOOKS AT SPORTS

Some people say that outside of seagulls, Mayfair is the biggest thing to hit Victoria. So much for free opinion. The biggest, boldest splash on this community in years has been Eidophor.

"They laughed when I said Eidophor would have an impact in Victoria," Herb Capozzi was saying Monday. "You laughed, too. You said if Eidophor drew well in Victoria it would be a smashing success anywhere."

"Your skepticism," snickered Mr. Capozzi, "was based on the unwillingness of Victorians to pay more than 39 cents for outstanding entertainment."

Eidophor, for those of you who have been vacationing in the Ural Mountains, is the souped-up process which projects the antics of the B.C. Lions on a wide screen. Mr. Capozzi is the souped-up general manager of the Lions. Eidophor's success in the Lions' eight home games has been due to the souped-up enthusiasm of football fans.

There were, along the way, a few pratfalls Capozzi and Co. had to overcome. The first involved an electrical storm which hit the transmission process like Dick Fouts, the Lions hungry defensive end, smacks ball carriers.

The second occurred when the first Eidophor projector blew a fuse. Some 1,200 people subsequently blew theirs and for a few minutes it seemed like the whole theatre might go up in smoke. But a substitute was imported from New York and relative peace and happiness has been the tone since.

'We' Pioneered Eidophor Process

The commercials nettle a few observers who tend to forget that without sponsors there would be no television in the first place.

Others claim the over-all picture suffers from the tendency of cameramen to concentrate on close-ups. On long passes, for instance, Eidophor frequently shows the passer but not the receiver until he has made the catch and is fleeing for his life.

Mr. Capozzi shot this objection down at point-blank range. "Even if this happens," he said, "the fellow in the theatre is no worse off than the spectator sitting 40 rows up in the end zone."

Many people like the close-ups. True, you can't hear what Joe Kapp is saying in the huddle. But after he has been creamed while looking for a receiver it doesn't take much imagination to tell that Joe is not asking his blockers if they know of any good places to eat.

It may be of interest to Victorians to know they pioneered the Eidophor process for football. Elroy Hirsch, the general manager of Los Angeles Rams, was so obsessed he discussed it at a meeting of National Football League directors.

Alouettes' President Shelled Out

Any day now the NFL is likely to announce that Eidophor will be used for the NFL championship game.

Ted Workman, president of Montreal Alouettes, surrendered his seat on the 55-yard line when his team played in Vancouver, just to watch Eidophor here.

Unlike the Lions, who only lease the projector, Mr. Workman dipped into his petty cash and bought one for 40,000 bananas. (Mr. Workman also paid Sandy Stephens $60,000 for his services and later let him go to Toronto for the $350 waiver price which doesn't necessarily prove anything except that it's nice to have money.)

This year minor football on Vancouver Island will reap the net harvest (undetermined) from the pilot project. In years to come other areas may get a piece of the pie.

"We thought," Capozzi was saying, "that Eidophor would give people in remote areas a sense of stadium participation, an awareness of being part of the crowd. It's not unlikely that in the future we may tie in with a theatre chain, sell the rights and collect a percentage of the gate."

Sense of participation is what many Royal viewers had after watching a rain-drenched game between the Lions and Saskatchewan. As they exited from the theatre, they hoisted umbrellas and turned up coat collars, ready for the storm.

Sheepishly, they discovered that if they were going to get wet in Victoria that night they would have to do it at home in their bathtubs.

Bud Grant's Verdict: 'Not Too Much Wrong'

WINNIPEG (UPI)—Winnipeg Blue Bombers held an inquest Tuesday into the untimely demise of the 1962 Grey Cup champions.

Coroner Bud Grant presided over the 1½-hour news conference which dissected the team that crashed from the championship pinnacle to also-ran in 16 games.

The verdict was that there was not too much wrong with the football team and a prediction that the Bombers will come back to life in 1964 and expect to be contenders once again.

Grant stuck by his guns in insisting that his personnel was good enough to win this year and squashed any rumors that a major rebuilding program was being contemplated.

"We'll have about six or seven changes next year," he said. "We know we won't have the same personnel... We never did from year to year even when we were winning. But I think our personnel was good enough at the end of the season, so we won't make any wholesale changes. Everyone has been invited back."

"We got in a hole at the start of the season losing (end Ernie) Pitts, (defensive half Ron) Latourle, and (linebacker Dave) Burkeholder and (Jack) Delveaux in the first two games. We never recovered."

The team also lost those first two games, 36-27 and 24-8 to Calgary Stampede.

WELL, IT LOOKS GOOD...

Theatrics of challenger Cassius Clay dominated Tuesday's press conference in Denver where he signed to meet champion Sonny Liston. Here, Cassius looks determined, sure enough, as he attempts to get away punch at Liston. Usually-solemn Sonny isn't quite as serious, and that may indicate how serious "brawl" was. Shielding himself from "battle" is Clay's attorney, Gord Davidson. (AP Wirephoto.)

POEM FOR OCCASION

Cassius Gets Crack at Title

DENVER (AP)—Cassius Clay recited a space-age ode here after agreeing to fight Sonny Liston for the world's heavyweight boxing championship in February.

"For those of you who won't be able to see the Clay-Liston fight," Clay told reporters, "here is the eighth round, exactly as it will happen:

Clay comes out to meet Liston and Liston starts to retreat.

Liston keeps backing but there's not enough room. It's a matter of time until Clay lowers the boom.

Then Clay lands with a right—what a beautiful swing. And the punch raised The Bear clear out of the ring. Liston is still risin' and the ref wears a frown.

But he can't start counting until Sonny comes down.

Now Liston disappears from view; the crowd is getting frantic.

But our radar stations have picked him up somewhere over the Atlantic.

Who on earth thought when they came to the fight, That they would witness the launching of a human satellite?

Yes, the crowd did not dream when they laid down their money, That they would see a total eclipse of The Sonny."

Liston, the solemn champion, and Clay, the gabby challenger, scribbled their names Tuesday on a contract for a multi-million dollar world heavyweight title fight in mid-February, probably in Los Angeles.

Former heavyweight champion Joe Louis put in a bid at the contract signing for Los Angeles interests, guaranteeing $1,000,000 for the fight.

Jack Nilson, Liston's adviser, said that was the biggest firm offer that has been received to stage the fight. Nilson said other cities that have submitted bids are Minneapolis, Chicago, Miami and Las Vegas.

The contract signing had its theatrical moments as Clay tried to hog the scene with noisy spouting from his phonograph recording and other quotations from his nightclub repertoire.

Liston, sitting calmly and at times looking puzzled at the noisy challenger, summed up his feelings with the declaration: "I hope you look the same when I get done with you."

'YOU'LL FIND FATHER IN FRONT OF TV SET'

Football zealots will have an opportunity to watch the initial playoff games in the Eastern and Western Football Conference on television Saturday.

The Eastern sudden-death semifinal between Montreal and Ottawa will be telecast over Channels 2 and 6 at 10 a.m.

First of the two-game, total-point Western Conference semifinal between Saskatchewan and Calgary will be shown on Channel 8 only at 1:30 p.m.

Stamps Like Secrets, Riders Strong on Beef

CALGARY—Saskatchewan has gone in for fresh beef and Calgary for mystery prior to their meeting in Cowtown Saturday in the first of the two-game total-point Western Football Conference semifinal.

Roughriders' coach Bob Shaw has brought in two sizeable defensive linemen to fill holes caused by injuries.

The newcomers: Nick Mumley, 6' 6", 250 pounds, three-year vet in the American Football League; and Joe Lewis, 6' 2", 250 pounds, formerly with the NFL Philadelphia Eagles.

Calgary coach Bobby Dodds said he hasn't decided on his starting quarterback, an indication he may go with Jerry Keeling instead of regular Eagle Day, who has been recuperating from a bruised kidney.

Dodds did say he was worried about Saskatchewan's new-found offensive power. "We have to stop their passing," Ron Lancaster has begun to hit his receivers.

The second game of the series will be played in Regina on Monday afternoon.

Junior Tennis Class

A junior tennis coaching class, involving a series of 15 lessons, will be conducted at the Racquet Club, 1920 Foul Bay Road, starting Nov. 16.

SWIM MEET

Sea Cadets Win Handily

Cadets of the Rainbow Royal Canadian Sea Cadet Corps showed their heels to the field Tuesday evening when they chalked up a 72-point victory in a tri-service cadet swim meet at the HMCS Naden pool.

A team of the combined army cadets came second with 59 points. Third-place winners were cadets of the 89th Kinsmen Air Cadet Squadron, with 44 points.

The Robert Mayhew trophy was presented to sea cadet swim captain, Stephen Dufour by Sgt. Ldr. E. A. McGowan.

In a similar meet the same evening, the Air Cadettes beat out a team from the Patricia Dufour Navy League Wrenette Corps. Points were 42 to 28. Team captain, Diane Roger accepted the trophy from United Cadet Services Committee chairman, Capt. F. N. Fotheringham.

NEW YORK—Tommy Garrison, 1894, New York, stopped Candy Parilla, 1274, Puerto Rico, 5.

... FROM HERE AND THERE

IN BASEBALL—Philadelphia Phillies of the National League sold eight players, including veteran Frank Torre, to their Little Rock farm team in the International League. . . . Also included was second-string catcher Bob Olds. . . . In New York, Lee MacPhail of Baltimore Orioles acknowledged he had approached Eddie Stanky to manage the American League team, but found the former St. Louis manager and infielder "unreceptive." . . . Orioles are without a manager since Billy Hitchcock was kicked upstairs at the end of last season. . . .

IN GENERAL—Eighteen horse-players hit it big at Golden Gate Fields Tuesday. They held tickets on the winning daily double combination (Pacific Moon, $32.60 in the first; and Television, $32.20 in the second) for a $2,373 payoff. . . . Winnipeg Blue Bombers of the Western Football Conference have picked up Can players Jackie Brandt, a quarterback, and Ken Weber, a guard, from Saskatchewan Roughriders. . . . Houston Colts have signed veteran baseballer Hank Majeski as their New York City scout. . . .

Now Heat's On Rivals —Not Hull

CHICAGO (CP)—Bobby Hull put himself on the spot last summer, but if he keeps backing up his statements the Chicago Black Hawks may win their first National Hockey League championship.

Hull—and a few other Hawks—blamed coach Rudy Pilous for their collapse late last season. They said they practised too hard and the pre-season exhibition schedule wore them out before the regular campaign even started.

Owner James D. Norris and general manager Tommy Ivan gave the players the benefit of the doubt and fired Pilous, replacing him with Billy Reay. Then it was up to Hull, Stap Mikita and the other outspoken Hawks to prove Chicago's misfortune was caused by the coach and not the players themselves.

The Hawks have shown no signs of premature fatigue this season. They currently hold a six-point lead atop the NHL standings.

The flying start—eight wins, two ties, only one loss—has been due mostly to Hull and Mikita, who have been enjoying equal individual success. Mikita engineered Chicago's early success and lately Hull has been the sparkplug.

Tuesday night, the blond whirlwind helped set up two Chicago goals and scored the winner with 20 seconds remaining in the game as the Hawks dumped New York 3-2 in the only NHL game played.

It was Hull's 7th goal of the season and the two assists drew him even with Mikita in the individual point standings with seven goals and nine assists each. At the same point last season, Mikita had 10 points and Hull just two goals.

The victory was Chicago's fourth straight and extended their unbeaten streak to nine games, longest since 1939-40. It gave them 18 points, six more than Montreal and eight more than Toronto.

Bill Hay gave the Hawks a 1-0 lead 27 seconds after the opening whistle and Mikita added another in the second before Dick Meissner scored for the Rangers late in the middle frame.

Vic Hadfield tied it up at 14:28 of the final period, but at 19:40 Hull grabbed the puck during a goalmouth scramble and whipped it by Jacques Plante to give the Hawks a squeaker before 12,642 Hawks fans.

IN FOOTBALL POLL

Kapp, Brown Best in West

TORONTO (CP)—Quarterback Russ Jackson of Ottawa Rough Riders is shooting for two national professional football honors this year.

The Canadian today was named the outstanding player and outstanding Canadian in the Eastern Football Conference in a ballot of football writers and broadcasters in the conference cities of Hamilton, Toronto, Ottawa and Montreal. Angelo Mosca, two-way tackle with Hamilton Tiger-Cats, was named lineman of the year in the east.

In the west, the honors went to Joe Kapp, British Columbia Lions quarterback, as the outstanding player; Dale West, Saskatchewan halfback, as the outstanding Canadian, and tackle Tom Brown of the Lions as lineman of the year in the Western Conference. They were named by voters in Winnipeg, Regina, Calgary, Edmonton and Vancouver.

A further ballot will be held among voters in the nine Canadian Football League cities to name the winner in each category from among the five named today. Results will be known a couple of days before the Nov. 30 Grey Cup final at Vancouver.

WINNER GETS $2,000

Winner of the outstanding player tag will receive the Schenley Award and a $2,000 Canada savings bond. Winners in the other two categories will receive $1,500 bonds.

No player has been a double winner in any year since the balloting was first started in 1955.

Jackson, a product of McMaster University in Hamilton and considered in some circles as probably the greatest Canadian-born quarterback in pro football, was named the outstanding Canadian in 1959. Last year he was the EFC's All-Star quarterback and this season led the Riders to a second-place finish in the league.

In 1962, George Dixon of Montreal Alouettes was named the outstanding player.

SEATTLE (AP)—Vancouver Canuck centre Phil Malone, dissatisfied with being a displaced person, regained the Western Hockey League scoring lead after a big seven-point week.

Malone's spurge gave him player-of-the-week honors and a season's total of 22 points, enough to switch places again with Seattle's Guyle Fielder, who counted only a goal and one assist. Fielder now has 19 points.

Hamilton had the best record in the East but not a single offensive standout. Toronto had the highest scorer but an uncommonly poor record. Winnipeg had the highest scorer but failed to make the playoffs. And Saskatchewan made the playoffs without having a lone member of its offensive team in the top scorers.

This muddled state of affairs was disclosed today with the release of final individual scoring statistics.

Toronto's Dick Shatto was the best in the East. Shatto had the most touchdowns (13) and most points (81). Mont-

Peerless Prognosticator Changes His Tune

Punch Imlach, coach of the Stanley Cup champion Toronto Maple Leafs and National Hockey League prognosticator, has changed his mind about the eventual league winner.

Imlach, who predicted before the season began that his Leafs would repeat last year's pennant victory, said Tuesday he now feels Chicago Black Hawks will finish first—but he added a condition.

"Chicago will finish first," he said, "if they keep on using Stan Mikita and Bobby Hull the way they have been using them."

Imlach was referring to the fact that Mikita and Hull played between 30 and 35 minutes of last Saturday night's game here, won by the Hawks 2-0.

"No one is going to beat them out if they use their two big guys that much," he said. But added: "If they keep playing that way, they won't have much extra to give for the Stanley Cup."

Canadians appear to be popular souls in Australia, and what Bill Wakeham has to say about the Aussies should bring a smile from Marg Todd.

"The Aussies had only one question to ask," said Wakeham. "Can you boys play as well as Marlene Streit?"

Our men's team followed the ladies' team, captained by Mrs. Todd, to Australia for the Commonwealth matches. The males did right well, thank you, but they couldn't make the Aussies forget Mrs. Streit.

"She was the talk of Sydney," said Wakeham. "They referred to her as a 'golf machine'."

"Certainly, it was a wonderful thing for Canada's reputation."

Now what's next for Bill Wakeham?

The 23-year-old Gorge Vale member stirred a cup of hot chocolate thoughtfully before answering: "I really don't know."

He is on top of the amateur golf pile right now, and Bill offered a suggestion that he will stay with the simon-pures. Twice winner of the B.C. Amateur and three times a member of Canadian international sides, Wakeham said, bluntly, that he's "not considering a pro career unless something very attractive comes along."

In the Commonwealth matches, Wakeham was Canada's biggest winner. He won five matches, tied one and lost two in both single and four-ball events. Vancouver's Bert Thohurst was next in line with a 5-3 won-lost record.

Seven Putts on Last Eight Holes

"The Rock" lost only one singles match, that to New Zealand's Peter Creighton, one up.

"It's a funny thing, but I had a hunch I wasn't going to beat Creighton. I told him, too, on the 14th green after he chipped in on me for a second time."

Creighton dropped a chip shot on the 11th hole for a half, and did the same thing on the 14th. The New Zealander then proceeded to one-putt the last four holes. In fact, Creighton took only seven putts on the last eight holes!

Wakeham, who returned to Victoria last week, found the Australian courses "very good." "Their greens are very much like those in Victoria, except, perhaps, with a little more grain."

In New Zealand, where Wakeham and his Canadian mates played a series of four exhibition matches, the greens proved to be quite hard. This is caused, in part, by the fact that the Kiwi season differs from ours. New Zealand's golf season is winter and, generally, the greens aren't watered in the summer.

The hot chocolate was gone, and the press conference was at an end but Wakeham offered one parting observation about the Commonwealth matches.

"This is how tournaments should be run. I've never played in a friendlier tournament; never had dinner twice with the same person. Everyone mixed so well."

Edmonton's Gail Ross Wins Opening Honors

NEW YORK (CP)—A tall Canadian horsewoman won the Gayford of Toronto finished second. He, too, had a perfect ride at the annual National Horse show Tuesday while the West German Olympic team swept most of the jumping honors before an opening-night crowd.

Gail Ross, 21, from Edmonton, was in perfect form riding Thunder Bird over the 11-fence course. She won with a faultless ride. Miss Ross, who spent last summer sharpening her riding in England, competed in a field of 18 entries from five countries.

BOWLER OF THE WEEK

A tree surgeon who can "knock maples," Charles A. Cowie is this week's Times Bowler-of-the-Week. Winner of a 15-game marathon at Gibson's about four years ago, Cowie topped men's tenpin division with fine 188-201-243-632 series at Aurora Lanes to qualify for Times Bowlerama next May.

New York Favors Off-Track Betting

NEW YORK (AP)—A thumping margin for off-track betting in a New York City advisory referendum has set the stage for a new push to get legislative approval.

Mayor Robert F. Wagner, a Democrat and a leading "proponent of the proposal, called Tuesday's vote an "overwhelming mandate" from the people.

"I sincerely hope to get it through in the next session of the legislature," Wagner told reporters. A number of Republicans oppose the plan.

Complete unofficial returns showed: Yes, 958,346; no, 300,310.

Advocates of legalized off-track betting on horse races contend it would raise $200,000,000 a year to help the state and city meet education and other costs of government.

Opponents argue it would increase relief rolls and hurt business.

Thesz Meets Billy Watson

Lou Thesz is coming to town.

Reigning "world champion" of the heavyweights, Thesz will tangle with Whipper Billy Watson in the featured bout on Saturday's professional wrestling program at Memorial Arena.

Gene Kinski pairs up with Bob Moore to meet Dick Garza and Roy McClary in a tag-team match while Jack Peck faces Dave Ruhl in a supporting bout.

CAPS TO FINISH OUT AS CINCINNATI TEAM

CINCINNATI (AP)—Indianapolis Capitals, homeless entry of the Central Hockey League will finish out the season as a Cincinnati team, it was announced Tuesday by Alex Sinclair, general manager of the Cincinnati Gardens.

The Caps lost their home base last week as a result of the explosion at the Indianapolis Coliseum in which 68 persons were killed and heavy damage was done to the building.

The Indianapolis team, a farm club for Detroit Red Wings of the National League, has had a dismal record thus far, winning only one of nine games and that was by forfeit. They have lost seven and tied one.

BUCKS MOVE UP

McVie Provides Winning Marker

LOS ANGELES (CP)—Portland Buckaroos are only a point away from making the Western Hockey League leadership race a three-way tie but still find themselves only three points up on the league's tail-enders.

That's how tight things are and they could get tighter. Vancouver Canucks go against front-running Seals at San Francisco tonight. A Seal victory would put them out in front, two points ahead of Seals.

A Camuck win would put Vancouver in fourth spot, a point ahead of Denver Invaders and just one behind Portland Buckaroos.

An overtime goal by Trailborn right winger Tommy McVie gave Portland a 5-4 victory over Los Angeles Blades Tuesday night, putting the Bucks just a point behind the Seals and Totems.

Los Angeles stayed tied with Vancouver in last spot. McVie's overtime goal—he also got an assist during the night—decided a see-saw battle watched by 5,500 fans. They saw Portland goalie Don Head stop 39 shots while Blades' Jim McLeod handled 25.

Carl Voss Still Boss

MONTREAL (UPI)—National Hockey League president Clarence Campbell said today that re-elected in-chief Carl Voss is secure in his job despite charges by a league governor that he is incompetent.

New York Rangers president Bill Jennings publicly called for Voss' dismissal on grounds he was incompetent in administering his duties, particularly in New York. Jennings, a NHL governor, had said "there is nothing wrong with the officiating in the National Hockey League that a new head referee couldn't cure."

Today, Campbell issued a formal statement in which he said there would be no action taken on Jennings' request.

"It and when Mr. Jennings wishes to pursue the matter further, he can request that a meeting of the governors be convened to consider any proposal which he may wish to submit," Campbell said.

"Mr. Voss is the league's referee-in-chief and will continue to exercise his full authority and powers in that capacity with the complete backing of this office."

BOTH PARTIES HAVE LISTS

Postmaster on Griddle
As MP Charges Patronage

OTTAWA (CP)—Commons debate erupted in verbal fireworks Tuesday night over the most sensitive word in the political dictionary: Patronage.

In the spotlight was Postmaster-General Azellus Denis, target of repeated opposition charges that he has a list of "consultants" — defeated Liberal candidates and other persons allegedly used in dispensing government patronage.

But this time there was a second list, brandished triumphantly by Mr. Denis. He called it the "Tory consultants list."

"This list is even worse than the Liberal list," the minister declared.

The noisy grievance debate, lasting about an hour, overshadowed the central issue of a two-day supply debate which had just ended with the minority Liberal government weathering two more tests of confidence in the Commons.

EXCHANGE CLAIMS

Unemployment had been discussed for most of the two days, with Liberals and Conservatives exchanging claims as to which side had done the most to meet the problem.

A vote of 118 to 92 defeated an NDP non-confidence motion charging government inaction in meeting job dislocations caused by automation.

The Commons then voted 123 to 75 against a Conservative motion saying the government had failed to present any new policies effective in reducing unemployment.

The second vote had one unusual feature — NDP Leader Douglas missed his cue to vote, and he and 11 followers were not counted. An embarrassed Mr. Douglas rose later to say he had intended to support the Conservative motion.

The raucous debate over patronage that followed was

Longshoremen
Back at Work
After Walkout

Longshoremen at all B.C. ports were back at work in full strength Tuesday after stop-work meetings Monday.

The meetings halted work for several hours at Vancouver Island ports, and shut down operations 24 hours in Vancouver.

Longshoremen had been considering the implications of a Shipping Federation failure to implement a retroactive pay agreement reached last August.

A committee of Longshoremen's Union men is meeting with Shipping Federation representatives to complete the agreement.

A union spokesman in Vancouver said today that the negotiations should be wound up within the next three days.

touched off by Eugene Rheame (PC—Northwest Territories). He charged that the list of Liberal "consultants" used by Mr. Denis includes Mayor Ted Horton of Yellowknife, N.W.T., a member of the Liberal party executive in the territories.

He said Mayor Horton has been reported to be in line for appointment as commissioner of the proposed Mackenzie Territory to be formed in splitting the present Northwest Territories.

The government had talked of a new spirit in the north. "I would say the new spirit is one of blatant patronage," Mr. Rheame declared.

HAS A GRIEVANCE

Douglas Fisher (NDP—Port Arthur) had another grievance — his charge that several senators serve as presidents, directors or legal advisors to finance companies at a time when Parliament is studying legislation on consumer credit.

He called it a form of "lobbying" by companies, and said it was "unfair, unsound and undemocratic."

The preceding debate on unemployment featured a spirited defence by Labor Minister MacEachen of the government's performance since it took office last April.

Despite forecasts that unemployment would rise, he said, the jobless total in September was 10,000 less than a year ago and the number of persons with jobs was 180,000 higher.

Open Council Meetings Asked
By Coun. Cox

Oak Bay taxpayers soon may have an opportunity to hear more of what councillors have to say.

Coun. Allan Cox said at a council meeting Monday night that in view of the municipal election Dec. 5, now is the time to make a motion to have certain council procedures changed.

Council has been criticized for conducting most of its business behind closed doors.

Coun. Cox suggested that all matters affecting the public interest be discussed and dealt with in open council or committee meetings.

He said all matters dealt with in private committees or committees of the whole should be referred to the next regular public council meeting for final vote unless immediate action was required.

The motion for the changes will be made at the next council meeting.

SPLIT ON A-ARMS VOTE

OTTAWA (CP)—The Commons defence committee Tuesday defeated by a vote of 12 to 5 an opposition attempt to have Defence Minister Hellyer make public the technical nuclear custody-and-control agreements with the United States.

Both the Progressive Conservative and New Democratic parties split internally on the motion.

Gordon Churchill (PC—Winnipeg South Centre), Angus MacLean (PC—Queens) and Andrew Brewin (NDP—Toronto Greenwood) were among those opposed to the motion.

Esquimalt Hearing
Set for Swim Pool

A public hearing on the proposed $300,000 municipal swimming pool will be held before Jan. 17, Coun. E. L. DeCosta told Esquimalt council Monday.

He suggested Esquimalt Junior High School gym as a possible location for the hearing.

Council will send a delegation to Port Angeles to study the workings of a similar pool there.

Island News Briefs

DUNCAN — Four Che-mains women are recovering in hospital here from shock, bruises and cuts received Tuesday night when their car rolled over on the Island Highway about 10 miles south of Duncan.

They are Evelyn Everts, Cleo McLeod, Ruth Lewis and Milly Sabourin.

All are in good condition except Miss Cleo McLeod whose condition is reported as "fair."

Police, who don't know who was driving, said the car turned over on its top. One woman struggled out and stopped a passing motorist.

The other three women were freed by ambulance attendants and police.

Top 4-H Scorer

DUNCAN — Fred Barton, 14, a member of the Cowichan 4-H Tractor Club, was awarded the Eric Hamilton Memorial Cup for the highest project score in the club, at an achievement banquet held Monday.

He also received the Saanich plowing match cup for having scored the highest number of points at the Saanich match last month.

Juveniles Fined

DUNCAN — Two Victoria juveniles were fined a total of $80 in magistrate's court Tuesday when they pleaded guilty to three charges under the Game Act.

The offences were: Hunting game with a light, possession of an antlerless deer, and hunting while not accompanied by an adult.

Radio Bid Fails

DUNCAN — Two applications from Roy V. Parrett of Victoria to operate AM and FM radio stations at Duncan have been turned down by the Board of Broadcast Governors, it was learned here today.

Officer to Speak

DUNCAN — Major Jack Gallagher, officer commanding the Duncan company of the Canadian Scottish Regiment, will be guest speaker at the Knights of Columbus' 18th annual veterans' dinner for Catholic ex-service men.

It will be held in the Moose Home, Duncan, on Armistice Day at 6:30 p.m.

Ray Simard, Cobble Hill, grand knight, will preside.

Landmark Gone

PORT ALBERT — A wrecking crew last week demolished the old B.C. Packers' Kildonan plant, a landmark on the Al-berni Inlet.

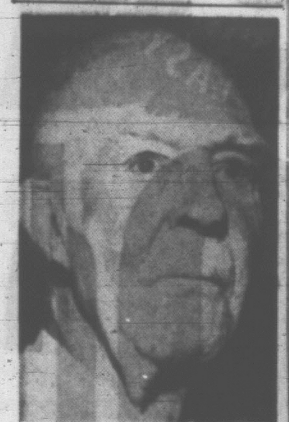

Built in 1911, the plant at one time was the largest fish processing establishment in Canada.

The cannery went into operation 53 years ago. It was taken over by B.C. Packers in the late 1920s.

Rites Thursday For Ex-Nurse

DUNCAN — Funeral services will be held at Hirst Funeral Chapel Thursday for Mrs. Mary Anne Corsan, 82, a well known member of the Overseas Nurses' Association, who died at King's Daughters' Hospital Tuesday.

Born at Peterhead, Scotland, Mrs. Corsan formerly lived in Victoria before coming here four years ago.

ONLY PERSON in Canada to have a Scout troop named after him, Col. Maxwell E. Dopping-Hepenstal, 91, CBE, DSO, Croix de Guerre, will attend tonight's annual dinner meeting of the Cowichan Valley Boy Scout District. The 1st Quamichan Hepenstal Own is the troop which was named after the veteran scoutmaster and former district Scout commissioner.

Old Sweats Battle The March of Time

Every year, on Nov. 11, the Canadian Legion Branch at Fulford Harbour on Salt Spring Island holds a Remembrance Day parade.

Each year they have a problem, and each year the problem becomes more acute.

Alfred Dane, member of the Legion at Fulford, who has arranged this year's parade, explains it this way:

"Our service includes a march to the Cenotaph, and for this I have a march played over a public address system."

"The march," he continues, "cannot be played in the quick time of the old days on the parade square."

... some of us are veterans of not two, but three, wars. We even have one member who was in the Sudan campaign under Lord Kitchener!

"You'll see by this that some of us just aren't as young as we used to be... what we need is a slowed-down march so we old vets can keep in step."

Added to this problem, Mr. Dane explains, is the fact the records he has been using for the past 10 years are suffering from wear and breakage.

The problems were recently brought to the attention of the Royal Canadian Navy band of HMCS Naden, and the problem has been solved.

NANAIMO AGENT

He Served Under 10 Premiers

When Bill Cochran joined the civil service in 1913 there were only two official government vehicles—the premier's Packard and his bicycle.

The premier was Sir Richard McBride, and Bill, as messenger boy for the provincial secretary's department, used to take the McBride cabinet's orders up to Government House by bike for the lieutenant-governor to sign.

One of the orders he remembers particularly well was approval for the government to buy two submarines as B.C.'s part in the First World War effort.

GOLD WATCH

Today's Premier W. A. C. Bennett presented him with a gold watch and scroll for his 50 years' service with the government.

Mr. Cochran, 65 this month, will retire from his post as government agent at Nanaimo Nov. 30.

Nobody's sure if his service is a record, but it's probable.

10 PREMIERS

Mr. Cochran has served under 10 premiers.

Born in England, he came to Victoria while a boy in 1907. He served overseas in the First World War, then returned to take a job as an assessor in the government agent's office at New Westminster.

In 1930 he moved to Nanaimo as a collector of government revenue.

Because he says he's really "too young to retire," Mr. Cochran plans to keep busy as chairman of Nanaimo's Hospital Board and may "open a little office" of his own.

Ex-Lawyer Jailed For Three Years

DUNCAN — Disbarred lawyer John Francis Meagher of Saltair was sentenced Tuesday to three years in the penitentiary after he pleaded guilty to charges of theft involving some $20,000.

Meagher was accused of converting to his own use the $18,975 residue of the estate of a Vancouver man, John Hydes, and theft of a $1,600 mortgage payment from Mrs. Frances Bruning of Youbou.

Prosecutor David Williams said Meagher had two convictions for false pretences dating back to 1937. The current charges concerned the period from June, 1961, to last August.

Defence counsel A. I. MacDonald argued that both charges arose while Meagher had not been a practising lawyer. He said both could be traced to the defendant's addiction to alcohol.

In passing sentence Judge M. L. Tyrwhitt-Drake said it is a most unfortunate situation when the legal profession falls by the wayside and a lawyer's skills are used without integrity. The public had to be protected from such persons.

HOPES 'VERY SLIM' FOR MISSING PAIR

Air Force crash boats Heron and Black Duck dragged near Comox Tuesday for the bodies of two fishermen missing since Saturday afternoon.

Former Happy Valley man, Raymond Chapman, 31, an airframe technician, and Monty Mandruk, 49-year-old Courtenay construction worker, went fishing near Tree Island Saturday.

"Hope of finding them alive is very slim," an RCAF spokesman said.

Their damaged craft, its engine torn off, was found on Goose Spit Sunday. Fishing rods, a metal seat and motor handle were found in the vicinity Monday.

Ship built for heavy weather takes a lot of ribbing.

She's Built to Shrug Off Blows to the Rib Cage

By MONTE ROBERTS

It's always dangerous to lay down a threat to Old Man Ocean, but there's a ship now building here in Victoria which looks as though it could take anything the sea could dish out.

This is the oak-ribbed fisheries patrol vessel on the ways at McKay-Cormack Ltd., Kingston street.

Ordered by the federal department of fisheries in August, the vessel will be used on far-ranging patrols in the Pacific, and is designed for heavy weather.

To a landlubber's eye, the skeleton now rising looks at least as husky as any wooden ship ever fabricated here. The oak ribs are about eight inches apart; the stem is massive.

McKay-Cormack is fortunate to have a core of workmen skilled in fabricating wooden ships.

Went out to launch Tuesday with John Wallace and friends at Yarrow's Ltd., and watched a 7,500-ton vessel, 290 feet overall and 68 feet in beam, slide down the ways.

The vessel was assisted into the water by Mrs. W. S. Beale, who wielded the customary bottle of champagne with skill and élan. The ceremony had all the traditions of a ship-launching—but that vessel was no ship, it was a barge.

VT No. 200, to be exact, built for the Vancouver Tug Boat Company and slated to haul linerock from Texada Island to Portland.

One rather facetious witness at the launching wondered aloud why all the fuss over a mere barge.

—But there is nothing "mere" about the barge business, insofar as Victoria's business-hungry shipyards are concerned. It's not only bread and butter, it's meat and potatoes, especially in these days of chancy government contracts.

You might put it this way: frigates are dandy, but barges are handy.

Thus Yarrow's is only doing what is right and proper when it accords a barge full launching honors. At $500,000 a copy, a barge deserves their bottles of bubbly.

The navy's torpedo testing program, in co-operation with the United States, is continuing this week on the Trade Mission

OTTAWA (CP)—A Canadian trade mission leaves Friday for Latin America in an effort to increase Canada's present $10,000,000 share of the $350,000,000 annual import market there for industrial chemicals. The eight-member mission will visit Mexico, El Salvador, Guatemala, Peru and Chile.

underwater weapons range at Nanoose, north of Nanaimo. Or should that read "under" the underwater weapons range?

In any event, observers for both navies are watching target firings, not only for characteristics of weapons, but for the suitability of the area as a firing range.

Nanoose was selected for the tests because it offers a variety of ocean conditions. Mainly small craft are used in the firings, although the occasional destroyer or frigate takes a turn.

For the benefit of alert waterfront watchers who wondered about that long, low object charging down Haro Strait, into Juan de Fuca Monday, it was the submarine USS Bream.

She's one of the larger conventional-type subs, measuring 311 feet overall. The Bream entered the service in 1944, saw action in the Pacific, is rated as a converted GATO class.

STUDY SET ON INDIANS

OTTAWA (CP)—The federal government has decided to undertake a national study on the best ways to bring about the integration of Indians in Canadian society.

Citizenship Minister Favreau, who also is superintendent of Indian affairs, is expected to make an announcement of the study next week, an official of his department said today.

Professor Harry Hawthorne of the University of British Columbia, is expected to be named to direct the study.

Daffodil Festival Proposed

While the rest of Canada freezes, Victoria may be hosting hordes of visitors in the warm yellow profusion of a spring Daffodil Festival.

A select committee of the Victoria Visitors' Bureau will meet with the Greater Victoria Celebrations' Association to discuss the possibility.

Bureau president G. Conway Parrott suggested the festival at a luncheon directors' meeting Tuesday.

"We can grow daffodils when everybody else is freezing," he said.

$12,378 RAISED

Directors were told the current membership campaign had raised $12,378 to date, from hotels and businessmen.

Mr. Parrott said that Victoria businessmen are at last realizing that tourism benefits everyone.

Mayor R. B. Wilson suggested that substantial grants made by Victoria and other municipalities should be considered as operating grants, with business collections used only for advertising.

All bureau advertisements will carry the "Follow the Birds to Victoria" slogan, and the provincial government will be asked to provide highway signs indicating the way to Victoria for tourists entering Canada at Blaine.

Arthur Mayse

Today, if you think you can stand it, we'll dip into my mailbag. First out is a jolly, inexpensive little funeral plan, which we'll table in the hope (mine, anyhow) that it won't be needed yet a while.

And darn it here isn't Ole Gull, still shy about having her name printed, but no longer anonymous. Seems that when Victoria Sea Gulls Golden Age Club convened on the roof of Willows Beach tearoom recently, this corner was discussed over the herring.

"We agreed," Ole Gull reports, "that our first cheque would be used to build a statue of Mr. Mayse next to that of another immortal writer in Beacon Hill Park. Each member has volunteered at least one whole day's time each week for painting this statue and keeping it well-painted."

"It was also agreed upon that a national gull holiday honouring Mr. Mayse be celebrated at Clover Point annually."

"A further resolution was passed stating that crusader Mayse is even better than Crusader Rabbit of TV fame."

"By popular demand, our theme song has been changed, and at every meeting we shall sing with gusto:

"Bully for you Mayse, Hold your torch high, With you for us, old boy, Old seagulls will never die!"

"On behalf of myself and the other club members, I wish to thank your newspaper for bringing Mr. Mayse into our rather damp, dreary lives. People are reading less and less nowadays, but because of this man, seagulls will be reading more and more."

"Utterly yours, "OLE GULL,"

"President, VSGGAC."

(Okay, Ole Gull, and for your next damp and dreary meeting, suppose we arrange a demonstration by Frank Beebe and his gull-hunting falcons? They'll live things up, you bet!)

Next letter comes from Rev. H. P. Davidson, 325 Richmond, who points out that Canadian Chamber of Commerce has reversed its once-favorable view of state lotteries after a poll revealed that 93 per cent of its 400 local chambers opposed a pro-sweepstake resolution.

Mr. Davidson quotes the United Church Observer as follows:

"We hope that some other responsible groups in this country who have irresponsibly advocated state lotteries... will make careful study of how such things have contributed to organized crime in the U.S.A."

Impressive words from a respected source. But was it government-sanctioned gambling that fattened the American racketeer, or the illicit numbers game?

I'm still in favor of state-operated lotteries, and from letters received, so are a great many readers.

Bertram P. Allard, 976-A Humboldt, suggests we follow Britain's lead in offering premium bonds, interest upon which is drawn for at regular intervals.

H. P. Wilson, 643 Harbinger, stresses that integrity is an important condition of any successful lottery, and feels the public would lack confidence in any sweep-not operated by the federal government. As Victoria spokesman for a Calgary-centered group, which urges a Canadian sweep, he insists that the group is "in favor only of a Dominion government controlled and operated system."

To D. C. Woodward of 812 Delamere, with thanks for a good letter, let me repeat that when our Indians protest a grievance, I'm usually solid on their side.

"The Indians were concerned over the increasing scarcity of fish and game years ago," Mr. Woodward writes: "There were those who didn't like to see the forests go, who didn't like the dams on the rivers and who deplored the pollution of the waters. Unfortunately for all of us, the Indians of those days had even less chance than their immigrant brethren, the 'crackpot' conservationists, of reaching the ear of those in high places."

"As for the mention you made of the Haida, perhaps we, too, owe our existence and can afford our attitudes because of the intervention of other races."

Perhaps we do. But getting back to the matter of ancient treaties: as I've said before, it's high time they were reviewed.

Just this year, the United States has offered to compensate California's Indians for lands grabbed in 1853. The price is low—a mere 47 cents an acre—but the total comes to $29.1 million, hardly a sum to be sneezed at by the state's 36,000 registered redmen.

ONCE THERE WAS A TIME WHEN I THOUGHT I COULD GIVE UP THUMB-SUCKING...

NOW I DOUBT IF I EVER COULD...

I'M HOOKED!

Flexible Plan For New Centre

By AB KENT

Greater Victoria school board formally asked Education Minister Leslie Peterson Tuesday for approval to build an adult education centre.

The plan would extend the public school program to persons who failed to finish school, need job retraining or additional vocational skills to take their proper role in society.

The board's brief culminates years of suggestions and discussion on the growing need for adult education, and ends eight months of active research and planning by trustees, advisors and members of the community who participated in its preparation.

Mr. Peterson was asked to approve the principle, construction, equipping and operation of an adult education centre or "school district college" by the board, which is an autonomous body under the Public Schools Act.

Such a school would operate day and evening schedules.

United Appeal Into Home Stretch $100,000 Short

Countdown has started as the United Appeal heads along the home stretch. The fund is in its last quarter, standing today at $300,068.

Target is $400,000, and officials are optimistic about reaching it before the end of the month.

And the figure is better than last year, when the total at this date stood at $282,000.

While Appeal officials last month despaired at slow returns, they are now watching an upswing. Jaycees and life underwriters, in a friendly competitive blitz, have collected $6,946 from small city businesses.

The underwriters, with 79.8 per cent of their target of $4,700 in the bag, are confident of holding their lead.

Jaycees have a close 74.2 per cent of their $4,300 target.

The residential campaign, which began three weeks after the business canvass, has brought in $53,286, or 74.3 per cent of the objective.

And Sidney North Saanich where chief canvasser Fred Baker reported over-the-top of $2,400 target Saturday, has turned in another $400.

LOCAL AUTHOR TO GET AWARD IN OTTAWA

Author of the prize-winning play "Beyond Our Time" goes to Ottawa Saturday to receive her award from Madame Vanier, wife of the governor-general.

Mrs. Mimi Edgell, wife of Saanich farmer Frank Edgell, won second prize among more than 100 entries this year "in the Canadian Play Writing Competition sponsored for a quarter-century by the Ottawa Little Theatre Workshop."

It has a Victoria locale and deals with the conflict between a white and East Indian family.

400-House Project Slated for Saanich

Golf Club, Marina In $22 Million Plan

By PETE LOUDON

Plans for a $22 million quality real estate development in Saanich were revealed today.

The development, slated to begin early in 1964 and to extend over the next six or seven years, will encompass over 300 acres fronting on Sayward Beach, just north of Cordova Bay.

Hugh A. Martin, president of Marwell Construction Company, Vancouver, said in an interview:

- The project will provide sites for 400 homes.
- A golf and country club.
- A marina and yacht club.

Exact boundaries of the area are still vague because property negotiations still are under way, Mr. Martin said. They started quietly about a year ago.

"We visualize a development of 400 houses, an 18-hole golf course, a marina, yacht club and pool," stated Mr. Martin.

YOUNG, RETIRED "We expect to find a property market among younger retired executives—and they are retiring younger these days—from cities all across Canada."

"It won't be in any sense a senior citizens' community, however," he added.

He said the scheme will create a neighborhood similar in style to the British Properties in West Vancouver with homes of the $25,000 to $40,000 price range going up.

He said restrictions on architectural requirements will be rigidly adhered to, but his firm will not take part in the home construction.

CITY BUILDERS "That will be left to Victoria builders," he stated.

Marwell Construction will undertake the golf course, marina and yacht club construction.

Mr. Martin said Saanich was chosen as a site because "we feel it is close to being the most desirable site in Canada."

The area is to be known as the San Juan Development.

TURNER FARM Although Mr. Martin did not disclose exact boundaries of the area, it was learned that the 204-acre Turner Farm on Sayward Road is to be included.

Present tenants, Mr. and Mrs. William Turner, have been asked to vacate by March. Mr. Turner's family, the late James Turner, first took out the lease in 1934.

Owners were John L. Pyper of Kamloops and the estate of the late Theo Forbes of Sidney, Mr. Turner said.

"BIT OF JOLT" "We figured it would be coming eventually, but to get six months' notice is a bit of a jolt," said Mr. Turner.

He said he is searching for another farm. His operation involves 75 head of short-horn cattle, consistent prize winners at fall fairs, 45 sheep and "too many" chickens.

Mr. and Mrs. Turner have three children. They feel they will probably have to leave Vancouver Island in order to continue full-scale farming.

"GRABBED UP" Mr. Turner sees the development as symbolic of what is happening all over lower Vancouver Island.

"The land is being grabbed up. Soon there will be only potatoes and berries left," he said.

He believes the transition of the land from farm to residential area will have small effect on local produce dealers. Most of their commodities come here from the mainland now, he said.

And the trend to fashionable home building, as well as being of inestimable value to building contractors and tradesmen, opens new markets for people raising shrubs in small nursery acreages, he added.

Barbers Vote For Monday Shop Closing

A majority of Victoria's barbers today petitioned city council to change the compulsory closing day from Wednesday to Monday.

Meanwhile a court case involving the closing day was adjourned this morning for two weeks.

Al Principe, who operates the Mayfair Plaza barber shop, was to have appeared in magistrate's court on the charge of opening Wednesday in defiance of the bylaw.

Mr. Principe has been closing Mondays—the voluntary closing day for most businesses located in the Mayfair Plaza.

His stand has been backed by today's petition, showing 27 out of the city's 52 barber shops want the closing day switched to Monday.

NO OPINION The barbers' group also informed City Hall that eight of the remaining barbers expressed no opinion on a closing day, one wanted Saturday, one wanted a six-day week and 15 said they still want Wednesday.

The Wednesday closing bylaw for barbers was passed by council at their own request several years ago when City Hall nullified another bylaw under which all shops had to close Wednesday afternoons.

It's likely council will repeat its co-operation by changing the bylaw in line with the majority request.

But it's also possible that aldermen will decide to shuck the last vestige of civic control over shop hours by abolishing the existing barber shop bylaw and informing the operators it's up to them to decide when they will close or open.

Minimum Pay Going Up For Machinists

Minimum wages for machinists and elevator operators in B.C. will be hiked next month, Labor Minister Leslie Peterson announced today.

The Board of Industrial Relations has set a minimum rate of $2 an hour for machinists, moulders, refrigeration and sheet metal workers.

Effective Dec. 9, it is an increase of 75 cents over the present minimum.

These tradesmen will also be paid overtime if they work more than a 40-hour week, eight hours a day.

At present they have a 44-hour week.

Elevator operators will get a minimum wage of $1 an hour starting Dec. 16.

The present minimum is 75 cents for a 44-hour week. The elevator operators will also get the 40-hour week.

Cookware Racket Probed by Police

A sales promotion racket that tried to dupe six Saanich residents is being investigated by police.

Each of the six persons signed papers without reading them. As a result they have each been billed $389 for a set of cookware that none of them want.

The complainants say they were told the papers they signed were applications for jobs as sales managers for a cookware company.

NOTES, CONTRACTS Only when they received a bill from a Vancouver finance company did they discover the papers were promissory notes and sales contracts.

Each of the complainants has a slightly different story but basically this is the way they say the racket worked:

A newspaper ad asked for applications for positions as sales promotion managers for a cookware firm. Applicants were told they would receive a sales demonstration kit either free or for a nominal charge. They were to use this kit to train salesmen.

The complainants say they were induced to sign papers at this stage. Some were told the papers were job applications or applications for bonding which was necessary in order to get the job.

A few paid $21 for demonstration kits and others got them apparently free. Then each received a bill from the Vancouver finance company for cookware they had accepted.

The sales promotion outfit has apparently discontinued operations.

Saanich police are investigating the connection between the promotion company and the finance company.

No one has yet paid the bill they received and are waiting the results of police investigation to find their legal position.

Bars, Pubs Can Pick Own Hours

Drinks can be served anytime between 9 a.m. and midnight under new B.C. liquor regulations which come into force Jan. 1.

The new regulations, approved by the cabinet Tuesday, allow both bars and beer parlors to pick their own hours between 9 a.m. and midnight.

The only restriction is that they may not be open more than 13 of the 15 hours within that period.

At present 11 a.m. is the earliest drinks can be sold.

TO MIDNIGHT Cocktail bars can stay open until midnight, except on Saturdays when closing time is 11:30 p.m.

Beer parlors now must close at 6:45 p.m. for a supper break, reopening at 7:30. Otherwise they have the same hours as bars.

This wipes out the supper break for beer parlors if operators wish.

It also means that a bar or pub may open for a part of the day only. However the exact hours it operates must be specified on its licence.

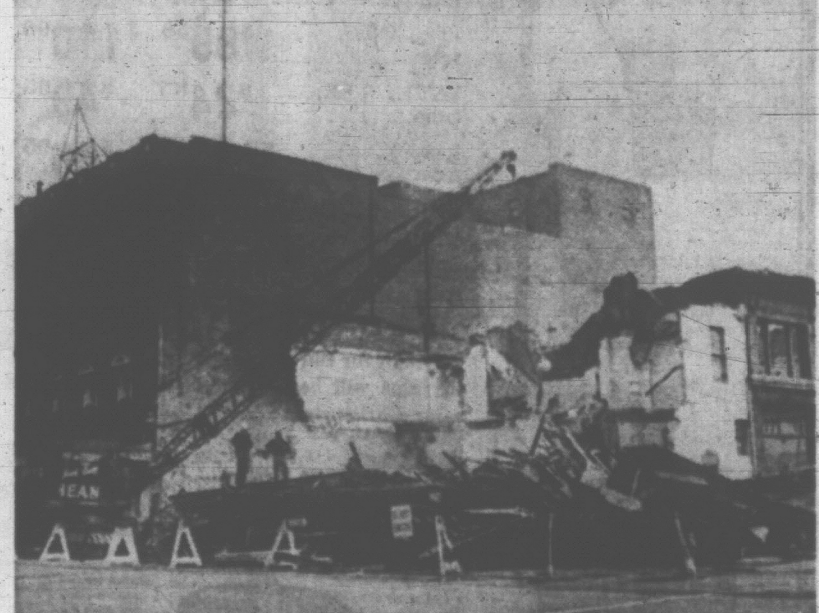

Labor Minister Leslie Peterson said the regulations will give greater flexibility to the bar and hotel owners.

"It will recognize local needs," he said.

Ferry Rescues Fishing Boat

The B.C. Toll Authority ferry MV Queen of Victoria went to the aid of a fishboat in trouble four miles east of Active Pass Tuesday night, according to the Canadian Press.

The ferry was en route from Swartz Bay to Tsawwassen and took the fishboat in tow. A man and a woman were reported to be on board. B.C. Toll Authority officials here have received no information on the incident.

TOPICS of the DAY

B.C. government employees will pay an extra 30 cents a month next year for medical insurance.

A cabinet order Tuesday authorized a change in the agreement between the government and its employees' association.

The new monthly medical premium for government employees' medical services will be $4 for a single person, $10 for a married person.

The government pays half the premiums.

Reason for the increase is an expected 6 per cent boost in doctor fees.

Ask The Times

Q. At present, what censorship, if any, exists in British Columbia in the matter of pornographic books, newspapers and magazines for sale to the public?

In the same context, what censorship is there of movies shown to the public? N.M.M.

A. There is no censor in the province for books, magazines and newspapers but there are sections in the Criminal Code whereby a publisher can be prosecuted for printing obscene literature.

There is a censor for moving pictures in the province who operates under the Moving Pictures Act.

His office is located in Vancouver, and he is responsible for all films and slides shown to the public throughout the province.

Q. What are the names of the leading newspapers of Denver, Colorado? D.H.S.

A. The Post, and the Rocky Mountain News.

Response to a jointly-sponsored course to aid small businessmen was more than enough to fill the first class Tuesday and a second class will be offered tonight.

Instructor Dennis Mason Hurley said 34 candidates showed up in Oak Bay Junior High School library and there have been dozens of inquiries since.

Ideal size of the informal, discussion-type class is 20 persons.

The course runs weekly for 10 weeks, sessions starting at 7:30 p.m.

Sponsors are the federal department of trade and commerce, the Chamber of Commerce and Greater Victoria school board adult education division.

Victoria West PTA will meet next Tuesday at 8 p.m., in Victoria West Elementary School.

Former and current students, teachers, friends and parents of Mount Newton Junior Secondary School are invited to a bix social and reunion at the school at 6 p.m. Saturday.

Proceeds from a small admission fee will be put toward honor awards, sports equipment, the library and other special projects.

There will be entertainment and dancing, light refreshments and a lunch auction. Television sets will be installed for the national hockey game.

Five members of the Silver Threads group provided a variety concert Monday for old age pensioners at Langford.

Mrs. L. McDonald, Mrs. E. M. Potter, Mrs. R. J. Mondy, Bob Watt and G. Wren sang and played for members of Branch 60 OAPD and 50 and Up club of Langford.

A cheque for $20 was presented to Silver Threads towards their building fund.

SHOPPING GUIDE

It's Time to Clean House
For the Christmas Season

By PENNY SAVER

Smart housewives are getting their homes in order before the bustle of Christmas shopping pushes housecleaning into the background. Many of them have already invested in some of the versatile material that's on sale in a downtown store.

If you have a kitchen counter top that needs renewing or shelves that cry out for a clean-up job, this material is just what you're looking for.

Made of flexible vinyl, it's easy to apply because it's self-adhesive. No turning up of corners after a few weeks of use! Another factor is its heat-resisting quality. This is made possible by an inner layer of aluminum foil that distributes heat without any harmful effects. Material is also scuff and stain resistant.

Resourceful women have been known to use it on tables, bars, window-sills, all work surfaces and even floors and walls.

It comes in 18-inch width and sells at 79 cents a yard. There's a variety of colors including red, natural and yellow linen, black marble, knotty pine, blonde wood, yellow and grey pearlstone, white stardust, pink and blue fiesta and a smart combination of greys.

While whipping through the chores, treat yourself to one of the new terry cloth sets that have just arrived in the same store. They're decked out in colorful designs that include flowers, fruit, cocky roosters, culinary-minded puppies and many others.

Dish cloths and pot holders sell at 39 cents each, matching mitts at 49 cents and half-style aprons, $1.29.

If you want an "assist" with the home chores, phone Penny at 382-3131 for name of store.

Calories at Lunch Hide
In Innocent Type Foods

The seemingly innocent lunch may be about as innocent as a rattlesnake and much more dangerous. The snake warns you, but the lunches slip up on you without a hint of their threat to your hopes for losing weight.

Many women are absolutely honest when counting calories at breakfast and dinner but don't worry much about lunch because they do not think they have eaten anything worth counting—perhaps just one sandwich and a glass of milk. A sandwich can mean anything from 150 calories to 450 calories and most folks do not fix the 150 calorie kind. A glass of whole milk has 160 calories.

Then there is the housewife who thinks, "I just won't have any real lunch, just a little snack of leftovers, a little something or other from the refrigerator. That little 'something or other' is often her downfall. It may consist of anything from a 'dash' of creamed chicken to a 'touch' of brown Betty.

Yesterday I gave some suggestions for the woman who eats lunch at home and also has a family. Today I would like to give aid to those women who

Mrs. L. H. Edwards, Mrs. R. G. McKay, Mrs. R. E. Taylor and Mrs. C. A. Finestone, left to right, are busy preparing for the annual bazaar of St. Mary's Evening Auxiliary, to be held this Saturday, in the church hall, 1608 Yale St., Oak Bay.

Luncheon will be served from 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m., and afternoon tea from 2:30 to 4 p.m. There will be stalls of sewing, novelties and knitting, home cooking, attic treasures, books, children's wear, candy, jewelry, plants and greeting cards.

DEAR ABBY...

Have a 'Family' Discussion!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My husband works the second shift, which means he leaves home at 2:30 in the afternoon and comes home after midnight. By the time he wakes up in the morning the children have gone to school. He doesn't even know he has a family. I have all the decisions to make and all the discipline problems. I am fed up with the full responsibility. Don't tell me he is earning a living for "his family." He has plenty of seniority where he works and could get on the first shift by asking for it. What do you think I should do?

FED UP TO HERE

DEAR FED UP: I think you should tell your husband what you have told me. Unless you have already told him so many times he thinks you're kidding.

DEAR ABBY: Just read "All Man's" letter. He said, "Women drivers, bah!"

I am a woman driver who has been driving since the age of 16. I am now over 60 and have yet to be involved in any kind of accident, stopped for speeding, or given a ticket for overparking or wrong parking. Show me a man with the same record!

I find that most men are "weaver boys." They weave in and out of traffic to get ahead, and when you reach the next stop light, they are sitting there—waiting.

ALL WOMAN

DEAR ABBY: I have a relative (through marriage) who is far from poor. In fact she is a lot better off financially than I am. But this woman gives used things for gifts. And she doesn't even bother to have them gift-wrapped. She just puts them in a paper sack. Last week she gave me such a "birthday gift." I gave it to a needy person. She could have bought me three new powder puffs for 25 cents and I'd have appreciated it more. What is wrong with people like that?

HURT

DEAR HURT: It's hard to say. If she's off her rocker, you shouldn't be critical. But if she's simply ignorant, continue to accept the gifts without comment and pass them along where they will bring some joy.

CONFIDENTIAL TO M. W.: A man should never be ashamed to admit that he has been in the wrong. It is another way of saying that he is wiser today than he was yesterday.

What's on your mind? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

Sorority Rituals Exemplified

Impressive pledge ritual and the colorful ritual of jewels were both exemplified at a fall reception arranged by Victoria City Council, Beta Sigma Phi Sorority, last week in Victoria Golf Club.

City Council president Miss Doris Hooper headed a receiving line for the reception. Invited to stand with her were Mrs. T. H. Johns and Miss Elizabeth Forbes, council honorary members; Mrs. E. V. Finland, social sponsor, Omicron Chapter; Myrtle Okell, Pat Vickery, Nomi Clark, Wilma Bonnell, Marge Goodwin, Kelso Reid and Miss Louise Michaux, presidents of Xi, Omicron, Alpha Zeta, Xi Beta, Xi Nu, Xi Xi and Preceptor Alpha Chapters.

The pledge ritual was read by Mrs. Okell, assisted by Vicki Hickman, Diana Mercer, Yvonne Oakley and Willa Coles. Pledges, Sharon Wilson, Xi Chapter; Connie Higgins, Alpha Zeta; Phyllis Turner, Diane Moncur and Suzanne Hartley, Omicron, were welcomed by Miss Hooper.

Ritual of jewels ritual was read by Mrs. Goodwin, as chairman in charge of arrangement was Pat Johnson, Miriam Armstrong and Jean Donaldson; musician, Barbara Brown. Following the rituals Pat McAlley-Dawes and Irene Boone, Xi Chapter; Beverly Arnold and Dorothy Burgess, Xi Chapter; and Grace Waters and Esther Speller.

SEW SIMPLE

By Eunice Farmer

Use Tissue Paper as Lining When Sewing Sticky Fabric

"Dear Eunice: I am working with some material that has a rubbery foam on the back. I like the appearance of this from the right side, but the substance on the back sticks and won't go through my sewing machine. Can you help me?"

"Urgent."

I will repeat the answer to this because this type of fabric has become so popular. If you are having this difficulty, try stitching with a piece of tissue paper above and below your fabric as you stitch. You can see through it in order to sew, and it is easily removed.

Use a slightly longer stitch than you normally use, and be sure the pressure is not too tight. This is adjusted by loosening a screw at the top of your machine right above the needle. This adjustment is also used for sewing on heavy fabrics.

When those who dig dancing came to CFCF-TV's Like Young Program in Montreal recently, they had to bring extra shoes or boots and an article of used clothing. The program wasn't launching a marathon, but a clothing drive for the Unitarian Service Committee of Canada. The voluntary relief agency is appealing for "instant warmth" for destitute world areas. Address of Victoria's clothing depot is co Dowell's Cartage, 1117 Wharf St.

Money Tree Adds to Total Realized at Annual Fair

Instead of manning a stall at the annual St. Margaret's School Fun Fair, held Saturday in the school buildings, fathers of students subscribed to a "Money Tree" that netted the sponsoring Parents' Auxiliary a sum of $298.

The tree was on display in the gymnasium. Stalls were also set up in the gym and in halls and smaller classrooms. Total proceeds amounted to $1,650.

Afternoon tea was served in the girls' residence. Presiding at the head table were Mrs. J. U. Copeman, Mrs. E. Connell, Mrs. W. J. Roper and Miss D. Thompson.

Added attraction was a fashion show for teen-agers presented by the T. Eaton Company. Models, all students from the school's Grades 1 to 12, were Kathryn Waterman, Katherine Stapleton, Nancy Wood, Louise Hoy, Catherine Horne, Carolyn Stewart, Kathryn Botten, Patty McAfee, Diane Wardman, Jane McGillivray, Jean Ross and Melanie Peacey. Co-ordinator and commentator was Cicely Collins. General convener was Mrs. E. A. McGowan; co-conveners, Mrs. H. McKeever and Mrs. J. W. Paynter.

They were assisted by Miss P. M. Davy, art display; Mrs. H. Botten, candy stall; Miss M. Smith, decorations; Mrs. E. Hammond, delicatessen; Mrs. J. Barraclough, fashion show, assisted by Mrs. J. Gillespie, Mrs. G. B. McGillivray, Miss Sally Barraclough and Miss Lynette Clark; Mr. Barraclough, fathers' stall; Mrs. S. Orrick, home cooking; Mrs. N. Lockyer, magic goose; Mrs. A. T. Howell, novelties and gifts; Mrs. D. French, plants and flowers.

Mrs. I. Horne conducted the parcel post stall; Mrs. W. R. Thompson and Mrs. G. A. Gray, raffles; Mrs. V. Gadsby, snack bar; Mrs. K. McCombie, tea; Mrs. R. D. Clark, white elephant stall; Miss L. M. Shore, used books; Mrs. S. Park, used clothing, and Miss P. M. Nunn and the Girl Guides, games.

Cashiers were R. Clark and R. R. Wilde; telephone commentator was Mrs. J. S. Norrington.

Navy Auxiliary Presents A Winter Fashion Show

"Standing room only" was the signal to late-comers attending a fall fashions party arranged Tuesday evening in HMCS Naden a wardrobe by the Women's Auxiliary to the Royal Canadian Navy.

All available seats were taken and the wardrobe's moveable walls were rolled back to allow an overflow audience to see the showing from the long hall.

Proceeds will be used for the auxiliary scholarship fund.

Mrs. H. Norman, auxiliary president, welcomed the audience. Commentator for the show was Helen Beirnes. Imports from the fashion houses of Europe were shown by Gordon Ellis Ltd., and hats were by Rosalie.

Double-breasted suits, dashing topcoats with luxurious fur collars that were easily removed for every-day wear; mixed and matched sports and ski wear and the beauty of fine Oriental silks in hostess dresses and fireside togs, all were presented by a bevy of pretty models.

The "three-chapter" suit, slender skirt, Chanel-style jacket and overblouse, appeared in fine wools and heavier tweeds. Jacket dresses were shown in warm reds and coral tones and in vivid turquoise and peacock blues as well as the ever-popular black.

Hats added the "icing on the cake" as the commentator said. This was true, for in each case the hat complemented the ensemble to perfection.

BUILDING TRADESMEN AT PREMIUM

$500 Bonus Spurs Activity

WINNIPEG (CP) — Building tradesmen are going to be at a premium this winter in Winnipeg where traditionally they get a winter holiday whether they like it or not.

The reason can be traced to a federal grant of $500 being given persons who contract to have homes built between Dec. 1, 1963, and March 31, 1964.

In past years, because of extremes of climate and a general deceleration in the local home building business, all but a few journeymen tradesmen have had to sit on their unemployment insurance for two, three and possibly four months.

This year, not only are most of the major contracting companies holding onto their skilled help, but are looking for more men to augment their work forces.

One Winnipeg firm already has 200 contracts signed for homes to be built during the winter period and plans to take on 200 additional men.

Two others each attribute 100 homes directly to the grant and, although they don't plan large increases in staff, they are pleased they will be able to assure all of their regular men full winter employment for the first time.

Even the smaller contractors are beaming over the increased business.

Typical of these is Dave Epps, who also is president of the Winnipeg House Builders Association.

Normally he builds three or four houses during the slack winter months. This year he already has contracted for 12 and still has until Dec. 1 to sell more.

"There's been a terrific increase this year," he said in an interview.

"It's really wonderful. Everybody is feeling it." He explained that under the regulations a house may be built to the first subfloor before Dec. 1, but not further. He says many of the winter houses are being built to this stage and left until after the deadline.

And, in many cases, builders who put up houses in the summer as speculative projects now are finding themselves in competition with themselves and having to reduce the asking price of the summer-built homes by $500 in order to move them on the market.

"It's a real spur to the industry," said one builder. "We aren't even going to slow down or take a deep breath."

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP) — A wire snapped beneath the Great Wallendas circus troupe as it practised "the seven," a human pyramid. Six were injured or bruised, but none was badly hurt.

Karl Wallenda, 57, leader of the troupe, said the wire, stretched between two trees at winter quarters, was only 12 feet off the ground.

It was the first time the Wallendas had tried "the seven" since the pyramid came apart high above the concrete floor in the Detroit Coliseum in January, 1962. Two were killed and one was injured so badly he will never walk again.

The troupe started rehearsing Tuesday. It has a date to perform the pyramid at Fort Worth, Tex., for 11 days beginning Nov. 20.

"We're going to use the net in Fort Worth," Karl said. "We won't use the net on the other acts, just on the seven."

the federal cabinet, would involve 45 planes at a cost of more than $200 million.

A government decision reversing TCA's choice could be interpreted as a serious departure from the normal policy of TCA independence.

But acceptance of the Douglas recommendation could have an equally serious effect, involving trade relations with both the United States and Britain.

Transport Minister George McRath confirmed last week that he had received TCA's recommendation, but declined to specify which aircraft the airline wanted. He gave no indication when a government decision would be announced.

FURIOUS LOBBYING

The question of a medium-range jet for TCA has been under consideration for several months. It sparked a period of furious lobbying by several foreign companies seeking to out-bid each other on "the best deal for Canada."

Five contenders were in the running when the race began, but two—the Boeing 727 and the de Havilland's Trident—were discarded in the early going. When the TCA board of directors met in Montreal two weeks ago, their decision revolved around the Douglas DC9, British Aircraft Corporation's 111 and Sud Aviation's Super Caravelle.

As well as the normal considerations of price and performance, another key issue was involved—what arrangements the foreign manufacturers were willing to offer to share production with the Canadian aircraft industry.

According to informed sources, this factor helped the Douglas company. It already has an agreement with de Havilland of Toronto whereby it would provide some $500,000 in components for each DC9 sold in any world market.

SHEEPDOGS SWOOP FROM AIR

The B.C. government has come up with the ultimate roundup — using airborne sheepdogs.

The recreation department last week roamed the range near Williams Lake with helicopters.

Their job was to round up 19 California bighorn sheep. B.C. is the only place in the world with any large herds. These sheep were sent to Idaho, where bighorns have been extinct for 60 years.

B.C. had earlier exported bighorns to Washington, Oregon and North Dakota.

It's one method of thinning out the B.C. herds, which have become too large to thrive on the limited grazing grounds of the Central Interior.

The helicopters drove the sheep into large V-shaped nets on the ground where biologists caught them for shipping south.

BYLAW CHALLENGED IN FIRECRACKER CASES

VANCOUVER (CP) — Judge Winifred Murphy of the juvenile court has remanded more than 75 youngsters facing firecracker charges so she can rule on the validity of a city bylaw.

The juveniles appeared in court Monday and cases were proceeding until one of the accused's lawyer questioned the city bylaw and referred to a provincial statute.

The provincial fireworks legislation restricts sale of the crackers to the week preceding Halloween, but does not set an age restriction.

SOLUTION FRIDAY

IT HAPPENED LAST NIGHT

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Eddie Fisher, the mad lad, is sending sugary messages back to Beverly Hills from his Waldorf Towers suite here to his current pussycat, blondly beautiful Carol Lynley, whom he adores for her intellect. Eddie saw Atty. Louis Nizer here—about "a lot of exciting things." Not just about his delayed divorce, but about deals in the Grand Bahamas where gambling's starting, and in Paris, where he goes next week. I am not predicting Eddie's going to marry Carol Lynley. In the last year, his friends have said he was "definitely going to marry" Ann-Margret and model Renata Boeck. But I have a feeling Eddie is no longer a one-woman man, A 100-woman man, maybe, but not just one.

One non-tabloid New York newspaper is having such problems, it is trying to reduce its circulation staff by one-sixth.

Robert Merrill's children have been appearing at the Met (they get $2 for a performance, and $1 for a rehearsal, though it costs their mother $3 to park the car). Son David, 7, woke his dad excitedly to say, "When you go to rehearsal today, would you see if I left my comic books on the stage?"

Usually peaceful Peter Sellers got terribly, terribly angry at London photographers who took his picture greeting 19-year-old, co-ed, Liliane Kahn

Delagrave Heads CTA

MONTREAL (CP)—Pierre Delagrave of Montreal was elected president of the Canadian Tourist Association Tuesday, succeeding Loyal M. Kelly of Toronto. He was the only new officer elected at the association's 31st annual convention here.

who had just flown in from Boulder, Colo., where she attends the University of Colorado, at Boulder. Her mother explained, from Boulder, that Sellers knew Liliane since she was 12, was a family friend, "was impressed with her beauty, and was trying to get her an audition at the Royal Academy." London papers said Sellers was "near-violent, and almost lashed out."

Photographers used to ask subjects to "say 'cheese'" to make them smile—then changed it to "say 'whisky'." But they've found something better than never fails: "Say 'sex'."

Jill Corey, beautiful wife of Pittsburgh Baseball Star Don Hoak, is emerging from retirement. She'll announce it on the "tonight" show.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL... Sonny Liston got work permits to tour Portuguese W. Africa, Cape Town, Johannesburg and Rome. Sterling Hayden turned down a razor company's bid to shave off his new beard on a TV commercial. Bo Belinsky's slated to be maître d' of a Honolulu restaurant.

Some cabbies have a sense of humor. Hack driver Bernard Schwartz (No. 27782) tells passengers his real name is Tony Curtis. Lix Taylor, wealthiest woman in films, buys her lipstick by the case from the five-and-dime. Audrey Hepburn says she'll rest a long time after "My Fair Lady"; she'll go to Spain with Mel Ferrer who'll make "El Greco" there.

Stan Musial's calling his autobiography "The Man"—and Irving Wallace is giving his next novel the same tag.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: "Talk about bad luck," means Jack Herbert. "I paid $16 a day for a hotel room—and dreamed I was sleeping on a park bench."

HE GIVES AWAY GRAND PRIZES

Is there something you want to know? Do you want to win a set of valuable books or other instructive prizes? Then ask Andy.

Andy will answer questions submitted by child readers and those who submit the questions he selects to answer will receive worthwhile prizes. The youngster who asks the first question answered each day receives a 26-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia and of the second question a Hammond Atlas or Globe.

Andy sends a complete, 26-volume set of World Book Encyclopedia to Gregory Loy, age 14, of Rockford, Ill., for his question:

What is meant by horsepower?

The word makes you think of a sturdy horse, toiling with all his might. Then you learn that the capacity of an engine is measured in horsepower and you wonder how the sturdy animal fits into the picture. Machines and horses seem to be far apart. Nevertheless, a sturdy draft horse played the star role in the story of horsepower.

The age of machinery began about 200 years ago and the Scottish inventor, James Watt, did a great deal to help it on its way. His mechanical gadgets made the steam engine workable. Watt was a practical man, a true mechanic interested in getting the best out of his engines. His practical nature led him to develop the horsepower.

In mechanics, the word power has a special meaning. It is a combination of energy and speed. A strong man and a boy could each move a house, brick by brick. Both would spend the same amount of energy to do the job. But the man could do the work in perhaps half the time. In this case, the man would have twice as much power as the boy.

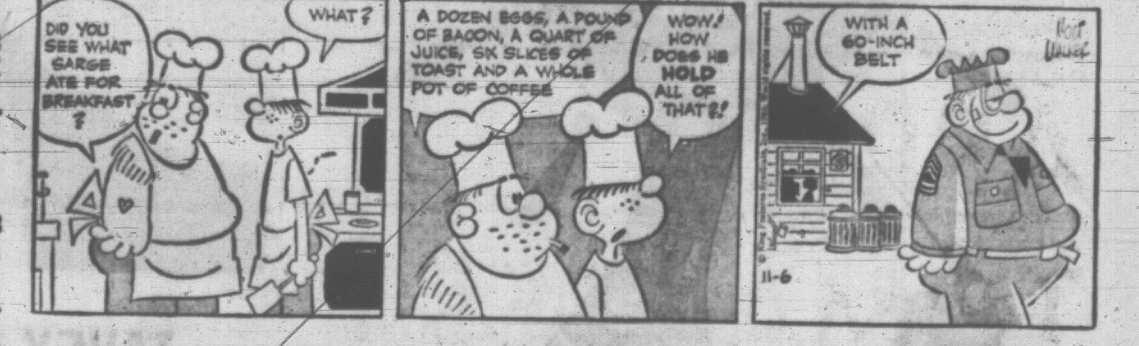

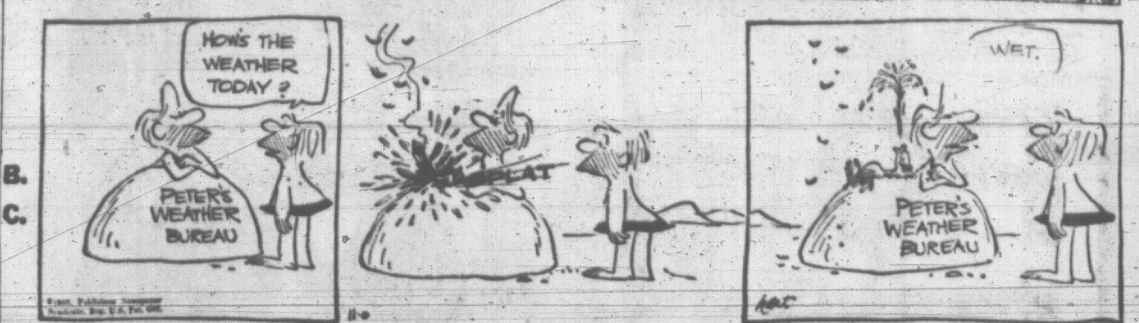

When James Watt was working on his engines, he needed a unit to measure power. He also wanted to sell people on the idea of machinery and it seemed a good idea to compare the working ability of an engine with the working ability of a horse.

He based his unit on the amount of work a strong draft horse could do in one minute. Some people think he overestimated the power of a horse, for his unit is equal to the capacity of about one and one-third horses. Perhaps the horse he used was a very superior animal.

The horsepower can be estimated in foot pounds. The foot pound is a measure of energy used, disregarding the time it takes to do the work. One foot-pound is the amount of energy expended to lift a pound weight one foot from the ground, regardless of time.

One horsepower is equal to 33,000 foot pounds per minute. Watt estimated this to be the work capacity of a strong draft horse. A strong man can lift 33,000 foot pounds in 10 minutes, which gives him a capacity of one-tenth of a horse power. An engine that can do this amount of work in a second has a capacity of 60 horsepower.

The name of James Watt was honored when time came to work out the units of electrical power. The watt is a small unit of the amount of work an electrical appliance can do in one second. The horsepower is equal to 746 watts. The kilowatt is equal to 1,000 watts or 1.34 horsepower.

BABY DEATHS

Hospital Dispute To Be Aired

The baby death controversy will be hammered out at a meeting within the next 10 days between Health Minister Eric Martin and hospital officials.

R. H. Proctor, president of the B.C. Hospital Association, said today arrangements for the meeting were made by telephone with Mr. Martin.

He said the association executive normally meets the minister after a convention.

It was at this year's convention two weeks ago that Dr. R. E. Adams of St. Joseph's Hospital charged too many babies are dying in B.C. hospitals.

Mr. Martin called off an investigation when Dr. Adams refused to substantiate charges that the death rate was twice what it should be at one hospital.

SAVE UP TO 105

Dr. Adams now says that for a cost of $100,000 the lives of 75 to 105 babies could be saved each year in B.C.

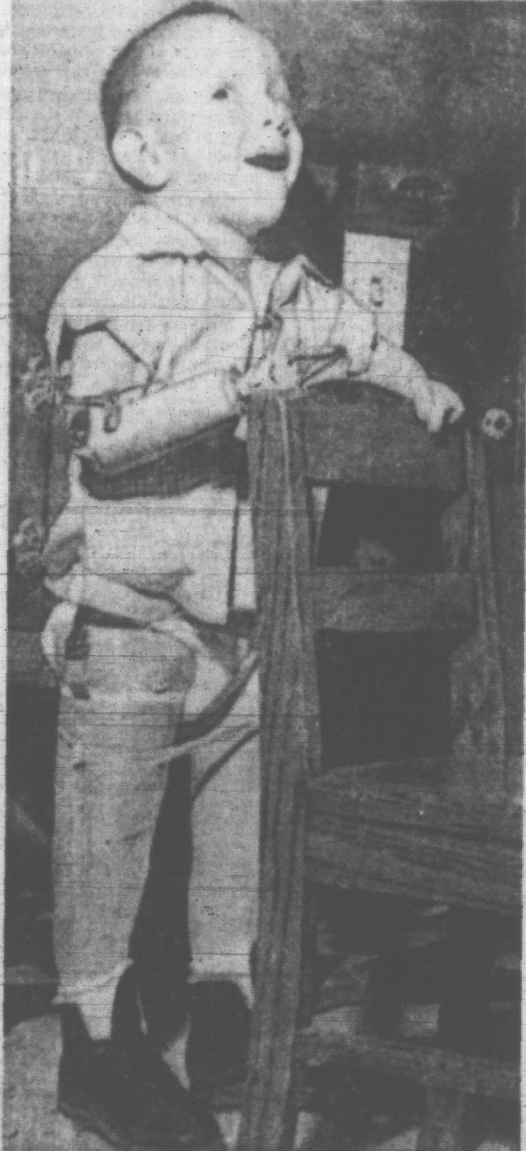

The money would pay for a province-wide study of baby deaths.

Dr. Adams said he would not comment on Mr. Martin's accusation that he had been guilty of gross irresponsibility.

He said he was leaving any further statements to the association.

However, he welcomed the forthcoming meeting with Mr. Martin as a step in the right direction.

Mr. Proctor said the meeting will be either Nov. 15 or 18 and it might be here or in Vancouver.

KEEPING PROMISE he made to his mother, Richard Matlock, four, of Dallas, Tex., takes first steps of his life with artificial legs. Doctors and therapists at crippled children's hospital gave Richard what nature tragically withheld. He was born without legs and a right arm. The tot told his mother: "When I get some legs, I'll learn to walk." (AP Wirephoto.)

Miner May Go Down To Aid Entombed Men

(Times News Services)

BROISTEDT (CP-AP)—Rescuers announced a new plan today to try and bring up 11 West Germans entombed in the Mathilde iron mine for 13 days.

They plan to have a miner descend down a rescue shaft 203 feet to try and dig his way through to the flooded cave where the men are trapped.

Rescuers had first hoped to lower tools to the entombed men and have them dig a horizontal tunnel to the rescue shaft.

They announced their new plan after the shaft through which the tools were to be lowered missed its target by five feet early today. A miner from the surface will descend the rescue shaft to dig into the chamber.

The trapped men have been receiving clothing and food since Sunday through a small shaft. Their food has to be mashed to fit into a one-inch capsule that moves up and down the shaft like an elevator.

Drillers are aiming the rescue shaft to miss the cave by one or two yards. They fear boring into the cave would collapse its ceiling.

Officials estimated at noon it would take at least another 20 hours to get the men out. Rescuers, who are in constant touch with the men through a telephone link, said the men were calm. A doctor said their condition was good. Mine officials expressed new optimism today about their ultimate rescue after previous gloomy statements that the miners' chances were only 50-50 of being saved.

At the same time, West German Chancellor Ludwig Erhard arrived at the scene of rescue operations to build up the entombed men's morale.

Mine manager Rudolf Stein told a mid-afternoon news conference:

Convoy Block Ended But Nikita Talks Tough

More Men Sent Through Today

(Times News Services)

BERLIN—The Russians suddenly lifted their blockade against a U.S. Army convoy on the East German autobahn—in the face of a solid display of Allied unity—and the Americans finally arrived in West Berlin early today 42 hours late.

A two-day war of nerves over Allied rights ended in the small hours' after the British and French sent units on to the 110-mile autobahn in support of the American convoy blocked since Monday by the Russians.

The British and French convoys went through without interference. And early today the Soviet officers dropped their demand that the 44 American soldiers submit to a head count. Then they pulled back the armored cordon blocking the autobahn near the West German border, and the Americans rolled through.

Soon after dawn the 12-vehicle convoy arrived in West Berlin. The convoy's commanding officer, Lieut. John Lamb 25, of Wewantichia, Fla., was erect and smiling in the lead jeep.

There was no interference at the Russians' Babelsberg checkpoint just outside the city. A big crowd waited through a cold and foggy night to cheer the convoy.

SENDS ANOTHER CONVOY

As soon as the convoy was safely through, the U.S. Army sent 56 more men on to the autobahn, travelling from West Germany to West Berlin in four vehicles.

This convoy, unlike its predecessor, disappointed for counting by the Soviets at Marienborn on the western end of the lifeline highway.

No erosion of Allied principle was involved, however. The Allies accept counting when a convoy carries more than 30 men in addition to the driver and co-driver of each vehicle.

The American convoy involved in the latest incident carried 20 men in addition to the 24 drivers and co-drivers for the 12 vehicles.

The Soviets cleared the second convoy quickly. With the autobahn tension at least temporarily lifted, the army reinstated a Berlin exercise which had been twice postponed. More than 5,000 Americans, the entire U.S. brigade in Berlin, were ordered into their annual fall manoeuvres to test city defences.

JOIN THE TEST

British and French liaison units joined the manoeuvre to test Allied co-operation. A U.S. spokesman said the exercise is limited to Berlin and there is no possibility of confrontation with the Russians.

The 44 men of the freed convoy drove to an army barracks for their first meal under a solid roof since Monday. During the hours of waiting on the highway they had eaten well, played cards and checked their vehicles to keep alert.

Allied officials mulled over a variety of likely reasons for the Soviet blockade—the third in less than a month—and its sudden withdrawal.

One theory was that the Russians wanted to force the Western powers into negotiation on something which they have declared un-negotiable—their right by conquest to set their own rules for access to Berlin.

Another was that the Russians wanted to flex their muscles in advance of Communist-bloc talks intended to denounce Red China's heresies. The Peking Reds charge the Russians are too soft with the West.

But the report predicts "there is unlikely to be any shift of forces from Europe or European Russia."

In addition to the home-based ICBMs, the U.S. has 1,300 strategic bombers and 10 Polaris submarines equipped with 16 rockets apiece in its nuclear deterrent pattern, the report says. It estimates Russia's strategic air force at nearly 1,200 planes, though about 1,000 of these are Badger medium bombers with a comparatively short unrefuelled range of 3,500 miles.

STRESS HIGH YIELD

"Soviet policy still lays stress on high yield warheads for the smaller number of missiles available."

The report says the nuclear test ban treaty may inhibit Russia's anti-missile program but is unlikely to hold up Soviet advance in low yield nuclear weapons—the one field where Soviet prowess is apparently inferior to that of the United States.

The Chinese-Soviet dispute is described as a complicating factor. Apart from 17 Soviet divisions in the Far East, troops already in central Asia, and a few detachments beyond Lake Baikal, the Soviet Union has no military formations other than border guards along its border with China.

But the report predicts "there is unlikely to be any shift of forces from Europe or European Russia."

In addition to the home-based ICBMs, the U.S. has 1,300 strategic bombers and 10 Polaris submarines equipped with 16 rockets apiece in its nuclear deterrent pattern, the report says.

It estimates Russia's strategic air force at nearly 1,200 planes, though about 1,000 of these are Badger medium bombers with a comparatively short unrefuelled range of 3,500 miles.

K THREATENS WHEAT DEAL WITH U.S.

MOSCOW (AP)—Premier Khrushchev said today Soviet plans to buy American wheat may be cancelled.

"It may well happen that we will let you eat your own grain," Khrushchev told a group of American businessmen. "I do have a feeling one might not come to an agreement on the grain deal."

Khrushchev complained especially about high American shipping rates.

"There is argument now on the cost of transportation," he said. "The U.S. is insisting on shipping only in U.S.-owned ships. The transportation costs for American-owned vessels are greater than they are for vessels owned by other nations and we don't want to pay any unnecessary premium."

SIU Man Gives Up To RCMP

MONTREAL (UPI)—One of two men sought on warrants charging they conspired with waterfront union leader Hal Banks to beat up a rival union official gave himself up to police here today and the other was arrested at Port Colborne, Ont.

Eldon "Jack" Richardson, 38, walked into the Montreal Royal Canadian Mounted Police offices with his attorney, Myer Gross, and was scheduled to be arraigned this afternoon (about 2:30 p.m., EST).

The second man, Ernest P. Carsh, 37, was arrested by Royal Canadian Mounted Police when his ship docked at Port Colborne during the night and was being brought here for a court appearance.

Gross said Carsh probably would be arraigned Thursday. Banks, burly boss of the Canadian branch of the Seafarers' International Union, was arraigned here Tuesday and freed on $2,000 cash bond pending preliminary hearing Nov. 12.

All three were charged with conspiring to assault Capt. Henry F. Walsh, an organizer of a rival union, at Owen Sound, Ont., in 1957.

During an attack by six assailants near the Burma-Thailand border on Oct. 26, Gen. Ne Win, premier of Burma, was shot and wounded in the right arm, according to unconfirmed reports reaching Thailand today. Two of the assailants were killed and four taken prisoner.

Biggest Crop In History

OTTAWA (CP)—The biggest Prairie wheat crop in Canadian history—703,000,000 bushels—was estimated today by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics on the basis of yields indicated on Oct. 15, when the bulk of the harvest had been completed.

Looks like we'd have some nasty highway accidents on that road to Berlin.

It's bin a bad month or two for miners, an' airmen, an' well... people.

That Hillside junction'll be rock an' roll for speeders.

'Could Have Meant War'

MOSCOW (AP)—Premier Khrushchev said today that if the convoy dispute on the Berlin autobahn had continued there might have been shooting—perhaps total war.

Speaking to a group of visiting American businessmen, Khrushchev said it was good the argument had ended, otherwise "it is possible that you and I would not be here today."

He added: "We could not have yielded and they would have had to move over our dead bodies."

Khrushchev said the dispute was solved only because the American convoy commander finally agreed to "observe the established procedure" regarding Soviet checking of the convoy.

In Berlin, U.S. authorities said precisely the opposite. They told correspondents that the Russians—not the Americans—had backed down. The argument was whether the American troops should get out of their trucks to be counted by Soviet border officials.

Khrushchev warned that more trouble may be coming on the East German autobahn to Berlin. He said Western convoys "will be held up in the future" if American, French and British authorities fail to observe what he called "established procedures."

In further comment on the convoy incident, Khrushchev said:

"As soon as the commanders of the convoy agreed to observe the same procedure which has been in force for many years, they were allowed immediately to pass through."

Khrushchev replied: "No, we have no such order but there is an established procedure. If this procedure is not followed, then they are not allowed to pass through."

'One-in-a-Million' Mishap Kills Hunter

BOZEMAN, Mont. (AP)—An explosion of a high-velocity rifle cartridge or cartridges killed a Bozeman hunter, coroner Alexander M. Schmall reports. He calls it a "one-in-a-million happening."

"We don't know what set off the explosion, but he definitely was not shot," says Schmall.

The body of Victor Vermillion, 25, was found Tuesday near a deer he apparently had killed and partially cleaned in Bridger Canyon. His rifle was nearby.

The coroner says the cartridges were in Vermillion's shirt pocket.

He adds: "As far as we know he was not hit by a rifle slug. Death was from a cartridge explosion. There's definitely no bullet in the man, only fragments of the explosion."

Pension Principle Accepted by Ontario

By VICTOR MACKIE Times Ottawa Bureau

OTTAWA—The province of Ontario has accepted the principle of a national federal portable pension plan but it would like a plan different in several respects from that put forward by the Liberal administration at Ottawa, it was learned here today.

This has emerged from the talks held last week between the federal government's technical committee and the Ontario government's technical committee.

The federal government's committee will meet this week with the Quebec government's technical committee. Quebec has, of course, opted out of the federal scheme. However, it has agreed to meet with the federal technical committee to work out details such as how federal employees residing in Quebec would be covered.

There will be intensive discussions on the federal pension scheme at the Dominion provincial conference to be held in Ottawa commencing Nov. 23. That conference is expected to continue for the whole week.

Prime Minister L. B. Pearson made it clear in the Commons last Monday that there is "no slackening in the determination" of his government that Canada should have a national contributory portable pension plan. "That is going to be done and will be done as quickly as can be," he stressed.

They'd Go to Sea in Ships — If They Only Had Some Water

CAUSAPSCAL, Que (CP)—Mayor George Barriault kept his eyes discreetly lowered, but the alderman and about 30 taxpayers at the Causapscal council meeting roared with laughter Tuesday night at a letter from the federal transport department proposing to establish a maritime industry at Causapscal "if the port facilities are adequate."

The letter said the measure is being considered because Causapscal has been listed as an "economically feeble" area.

The department posed two conditions.

One was that Causapscal should not now have a maritime industry. (The secretary-treasurer had to stop reading the letter at this point until the laughter died down.)

The second was that Causapscal should have certain port facilities for such an industry. (Here the audience went into paroxysms of laughter.)

Causapscal is in the Notre-Dame Mountains, 750 feet above sea level and about 50 miles from either the St. Lawrence River or the Baie des Chaleurs.

"We'll tell the federal government to dig a canal first," said an alderman.

Arthur Mayse

Today, if you think you can stand it, we'll dip into my mailbag. First out is a jolly, inexpensive little funeral plan, which we'll anyhow that it won't be needed yet a while.

And darn if here isn't Ole Gull, still shy about having her name printed, but no longer anonymous. Seems that when Victoria Sea Gulls Golden Age Club convened on the roof of Willows Beach tearoom recently, this corner was discussed over the hearing.

"We agreed," Ole Gull reports, "that our first cheque would be used to build a statue of Mr. Mayse next to that of another immortal writer in Beacon Hill Park. Each member has volunteered at least one whole day's time each week for painting this statue and keeping it well painted."

"It was also agreed upon that a national gull holiday honouring Mr. Mayse be celebrated at Clover Point annually."

"A further resolution was passed stating that crusader Mayse is even better than Crusader Rabbit of TV fame."

"By popular demand, our theme song has been changed, and at every meeting we shall sing with gusto:

"Bully for you Mayse, Hold your torch high, With you for us, old boy, Old seagulls will never die!"

"On behalf of myself and the other club members, I wish to thank your newspaper for bringing Mr. Mayse into our rather damp, dreary lives. People are reading less and less nowadays, but because of this man, seagulls will be reading more and more."

"Utterly yours, "OLE GULL," "President, VSGGAC."

(Okay, Ole Gull, and for your next damp and dreary meeting, suppose we arrange a demonstration by Frank Beebe and his gull-hunting falcons? They'll live things up, you bet!)

Next letter comes from Rev. H. P. Davidson, 325 Richmond, who points out that Canadian Chamber of Commerce has reversed its once-favorable view of state lotteries after a poll revealed that 93 per cent of its 400 local chambers opposed a pro-sweepstake resolution.

Mr. Davidson quotes the United Church Observer as follows:

"We hope that some other responsible groups in this country who have irresponsibly advocated state lotteries... will make careful study of how such things have contributed to organized crime in the U.S.A."

Impressive words from a respected source. But was it government-sanctioned gambling that fattened the American racketeers or the illicit numbers game?

I'm still in favor of state-operated lotteries, and from letters received, so are a great many readers.

Bertram P. Allard, 976-A Humboldt, suggests we follow Britain's lead in offering premium bonds, interest upon which is drawn for at regular intervals.

H. P. Wilson, 643 Harbinger, stresses that integrity is an important condition of any successful lottery, and feels the public would lack confidence in any sweep not operated by the federal government.

As Victoria spokesman for a Calgary-centered group which urges a Canadian sweep, he insists that the group is "in favor only of a Dominion government controlled and operated system"

To D. C. Woodward of 812 Delamere, with thanks for a good letter, let me repeat that when our Indians protest a grievance, I'm usually solid on their side.

"The Indians were concerned over the increasing scarcity of fish and game years ago," Mr. Woodward writes. "There were those who didn't like to see the forests go, who didn't like the dams on the rivers and who deplored the pollution of the waters. Unfortunately for all of us, the Indians of those days had even less chance than their immigrant brethren, the 'crackpot' conservationists, of reaching the ear of those in high places."

"As for the mention you made of the Haida, perhaps we, too, owe our existence and can afford our attitudes because of the intervention of other races."

Perhaps we do. But getting back to the matter of ancient treaties: as I've said before, it's high time they were reviewed.

Just this year, the United States has offered to compensate California's Indians for lands grabbed in 1853. The price is low—a mere 47 cents an acre—but the total comes to $29.1 million, hardly a sum to be sneezed at by the state's 36,000 registered redmen.

Flexible Plan For New Centre

By AB KENT

Greater Victoria school board formally asked Education Minister Leslie Peterson Tuesday for approval to build an adult education centre.

The plan would extend the public school program to persons who failed to finish school, need job retraining or additional vocational skills to take their proper role in society.

The board's brief culminates years of suggestions and discussion on the growing need for adult education, and ends eight months of active research and planning by trustees, advisors and members of the community who participated in its preparation.

AUTONOMOUS

Mr. Peterson was asked to approve the principle, construction, equipping and operation of an adult education centre or "school district college" by the board, which is an autonomous body under the Public Schools Act.

Such a school would operate day and evening schedules.

Countdown has started as the United Appeal heads along the home stretch. The fund is in its last quarter, standing today at $300,068.

Target is $400,000, and officials are optimistic about reaching it before the end of the month.

And the figure is better than last year, when the total at this date stood at $282,000.

While Appeal officials last month despaired at slow returns, they are now watching an upswing. Jaycees and life underwriters, in a friendly competitive blitz, have collected $6,946 from small city businesses.

The underwriters, with 79.8 per cent of their target of $4,700 in the bag, are confident of holding their lead.

Jaycees have a close 74.2 per cent of their $4,300 target. The residential campaign, which began three weeks after the business canvass, has brought in $35,288, or 74.3 per cent of the objective.

And Sidney North Saanich, where chief canvasser Fred Baker reported over the top of $2,400 target Saturday, has turned in another $400.

LOCAL AUTHOR TO GET AWARD IN OTTAWA

Author of the prize-winning play "Beyond Our Time" goes to Ottawa Saturday to receive her award from Madame Vanier, wife of the governor-general.

Mrs. Mimi Edgell, wife of Saanich farmer Frank Edgell, won second prize among more than 100 entries this year in the Canadian Play Writing Competition sponsored for a quarter-century by the Ottawa Little Theatre Workshop.

It has a Victoria locale and deals with the conflict between a white and East Indian family.

400-House Project Slated for Saanich

Golf Club, Marina In $22 Million Plan

By PETE LOUDON

Plans for a $22 million quality real estate development in Saanich were revealed today.

The development, slated to begin early in 1964 and to extend over the next six or seven years, will encompass over 300 acres fronting on Sayward Beach, just north of Cordova Bay.

Hugh A. Martin, president of Marwell Construction Company, Vancouver, said in an interview:

- The project will provide sites for 400 homes.
- A golf and country club.
- A marina and yacht club.

Exact boundaries of the area are still vague because property negotiations still are under way, Mr. Martin said. They started quietly about a year ago.

"We visualize a development of 400 houses, an 18-hole golf course, a marina, yacht club and pool," stated Mr. Martin.

YOUNG, RETIRED

"We expect to find a property market among younger retired executives—and they are retiring younger these days—from cities all across Canada."

"It won't be in any sense a senior citizens' community, however," he added.

He said the scheme will create a neighborhood similar in style to the British Properties in West Vancouver with homes of the $25,000 to $40,000 price range going up.

He said restrictions on architectural requirements will be rigidly adhered to, but his firm will not take part in the home construction.

CITY BUILDERS

"That will be left to Victoria builders," he stated.

Marwell Construction will undertake the golf course, marina and yacht club construction.

Mr. Martin said Saanich was chosen as a site because "we feel it is close to being the most desirable site in Canada."

The area is to be known as the San Juan Development.

TURNER FARM

Although Mr. Martin did not disclose exact boundaries of the area, it was learned that the 204-acre Turner Farm on Sayward Road is to be included.

Present tenants, Mr. and Mrs. William Turner, have been asked to vacate by March. Mr. Turner's family, the late James Turner, first took out the lease in 1934.

Owners were John L. Pyper of Kamloops and the estate of the late Theo Forbes of Sidney, Mr. Turner said.

'BIT OF JOLT'

"We figured it would be coming eventually, but to get six months' notice is a bit of a jolt," said Mr. Turner.

He said he is searching for another farm. His operation involves 75 head of short-horn cattle, consistent prize winners at fall fairs, 45 sheep and "too many" chickens.

Mr. and Mrs. Turner have three children. They feel they will probably have to leave Vancouver Island in order to continue full-scale farming.

"GRABBED UP"

Mr. Turner sees the development as symbolic of what is happening all over lower Vancouver Island.

"The land is being grabbed up. Soon there will be only potatoes and berries left," he said.

He believes the transition of the land from farm to residential area will have small effect on local produce dealers. Most of their commodities come here from the mainland now, he said.

And the trend to fashionable home building, as well as being of inestimable value to building contractors and tradesmen, opens new markets for people raising shrubs in small nursery acreages, he added.

Cookware Racket Probed by Police

A sales promotion racket that tried to dupe six Saanich residents is being investigated by police.

Each of the six persons signed papers without reading them. As a result they have each been billed $39 for a set of cookware that none of them want.

The complainants say they were told the papers they signed were applications for jobs as sales managers for a cookware company.

NOTES, CONTRACTS

Only when they received a bill from a Vancouver finance company did they discover the papers were promissory notes and sales contracts.

Each of the complainants has a slightly different story but basically this is the way they say the racket worked:

A newspaper ad asked for applications for positions as sales promotion managers for a cookware firm. Applicants were told they would receive a sales demonstration kit either free or for a nominal charge. They were to use this kit to train salesmen.

The complainants say they were induced to sign papers at this stage. Some were told the papers were job applications or applications for bonding which was necessary in order to get the job.

A few paid $21 for demonstration kits and others got them apparently free. Then each re-

Bars, Pubs Can Pick Own Hours

Drinks can be served anytime between 9 a.m. and midnight under new B.C. liquor regulations which come into force Jan. 1.

The new regulations, approved by the cabinet Tuesday, allow both bars and beer parlors to pick their own hours between 9 a.m. and midnight.

The only restriction is that they may not be open more than 13 of the 15 hours within that period.

At present 11 a.m. is the earliest drinks can be sold.

TO MIDNIGHT

Cocktail bars can stay open until midnight, except on Saturdays when closing time is 11:30 p.m.

Beer parlors now must close at 6:45 p.m. for a supper break, reopening at 7:30. Otherwise they have the same hours as bars.

This wipes out the supper break for beer parlors if operators wish.

It also means that a bar or pub may open for a part of the day only. However the exact hours it operates must be specified on its licence.

Labor Minister Leslie Peterson said the regulations will give greater flexibility to the bar and hotel owners.

"It will recognize local needs," he said.

Ferry Rescues Fishing Boat

The B.C. Toll Authority ferry MV Queen of Victoria went to the aid of a fishboat in trouble four miles east of Active Pass Tuesday night, according to the Canadian Press.

The ferry was en route from Swartz Bay to Tsawwassen and took the fishboat in tow.

A man and a woman were reported to be on board. B.C. Toll Authority officials here have received no information on the incident.

TOPICS of the DAY

B.C. government employees will pay an extra 30 cents a month next year for medical insurance.

A cabinet order Tuesday authorized a change in the agreement between the government and its employees' association.

The new monthly, medical premium for government employees' medical services will be $4 for a single person, $10 for a married person.

The government pays half the premiums. Reason for the increase is an expected 6 per cent boost in doctor fees.

TCA Jetliner Crashes, No Deaths

LONDON (AP)—A Canadian jet airliner over-ran the runway on takeoff in swirling fog at London airport tonight and crashed in flames. But first reports said there were no casualties.

The big DC-8 jet, a Trans-Canada Air Lines plane with 88 passengers aboard, ran off the end of the east runway and out of the airport onto the Old Bath Road.

The crew of the airliner were reported to have evacuated passengers successfully through emergency exits.

(A TCA spokesman said it was believed engine failure caused the mishap.)

The TCA office in Montreal has been in contact with its office at London airport, he said.

"From what we have heard the plane 'belled' on take-off," said the spokesman. "We have talked to London and there appear to be no serious injuries."

Chevrier Held Up Arrest of Banks

OTTAWA (CP)—The RCMP was directed by Justice Minister Chevrier not to execute a warrant to arrest Hal Banks until 13 days after it was issued, the Commons was informed today.

Donald S. MacDonald, parliamentary secretary to Justice Minister Chevrier, said in reply to a written question from Elton Wooliams (PC—Bow River) that the police were instructed to execute the warrant Nov. 5, the day Banks was taken into custody in Montreal and arraigned.

Car Theft Ring Smashed In East

TORONTO (UPI)—Police said today that an eastern Canada automobile theft ring has been smashed with the seizure of 53 cars.

Police in Halifax seized 20 of the cars. The others were picked up in Ontario and in Quebec City.

Seven men face more than a score of charges of conspiring to be in possession of stolen cars and of defrauding the public to whom the cars were sold.

New Plan to Aid Trapped Miners

BROISTEDT (CP-AP)—Rescuers announced a new plan today to try and bring up 11 West Germans entombed in the Mathilde iron mine for 13 days.

They plan to have a miner descend down a rescue shaft 205 feet to try and dig his way through to the flooded cave where the men are trapped.

Rescuers had first hoped to lower tools to the entombed men and have them dig a horizontal tunnel to the rescue shaft.

They announced their new plan after the shaft through which the tools were to be lowered missed its target by five feet early today. A miner from the surface will descend the rescue shaft to dig into the chamber.

The trapped men have been receiving clothing and food since Sunday through a small shaft. Their food has to be mashed to fit into a one-inch capsule that moves up and down the shaft like an elevator.

Drillers are aiming the rescue shaft to miss the cave by one or two yards. They fear boring into the cave would collapse its ceiling.

Officials estimated at noon it would take at least another 20 hours to get the men out.

Rescuers, who are in constant touch with the men through a telephone link, said the men were calm. A doctor said their condition was good.

Mine officials expressed new optimism today about their ultimate rescue after previous gloomy statements that the miners' chances were only 50-50 of being saved.

At the same time, West German Chancellor Ludwig Erhard arrived at the scene of rescue operations to build up the entombed men's morale.

Erhard flew here from Bonn by helicopter after saying he felt it his moral duty to come and do whatever he could to help.

Mine manager Rudolf Stein told a mid-afternoon news conference:

Convoy Block By Russ Ended

(Times News Services)

BERLIN—The Russians suddenly lifted their blockade against a U.S. Army convoy on the East German autobahn—in the face of a solid display of Allied unity—and the Americans finally arrived in West Berlin early today 42 hours late.

A two-day war of nerves over Allied rights ended in the small hours after the British and French sent units on to the 110-mile autobahn in support of the American convoy blocked since Monday by the Russians.

The British and French convoys went through without interference. And early today the Soviet officers dropped their demand that the 44 American soldiers submit to a head count.

They pulled back the armored cordon blocking the autobahn near the West German border, and the Americans rolled through.

Soon after dawn the 12-vehicle convoy arrived in West Berlin. The convoy's commanding officer, Lieut. John Lamb, 25, of Wewantobla, Fla., was erect and smiling in the lead jeep.

There was no interference at the Russians' Babelsberg checkpoint just outside the city.

A big crowd waited through a cold and foggy night to cheer the convoy.

As soon as the convoy was safely through, the U.S. Army

Biggest Crop In History

OTTAWA (CP)—The biggest Prairie wheat crop in Canadian history—703,000,000 bushels—was estimated today by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics on the basis of yields indicated on Oct. 15, when the bulk of the harvest had been completed.

with the Quebec government's technical committee. Quebec has, of course, opted out of the federal scheme. However, it has agreed to meet with the federal technical committee to work out details such as how federal employees residing in Quebec would be covered.

There will be intensive discussions on the federal pension scheme at the Dominion provincial conference to be held in Ottawa commencing Nov. 25. That conference is expected to continue for the whole week.

Prime Minister L. B. Pearson made it clear in the Commons last Monday that there is "no slackening in the determination" of his government that Canada should have a national contributory portable pension plan. "That is going to be done and will be done as quickly as can be," he stressed.

Martin Will Meet With Officials

The baby death controversy will be hammered out at a meeting within the next 10 days between Health Minister Eric Martin and hospital officials.

R. H. Proctor, president of the B.C. Hospital Association, said today arrangements for the meeting were made by telephone with Mr. Martin.

He said the association executive normally meets the minister after a convention.

It was at this year's convention two weeks ago that Dr. R. E. Adams of St. Joseph's Hospital charged too many babies died in one B.C. hospital.

Mr. Martin called off an investigation when Dr. Adams refused to identify the hospital.

SAVE UP TO 105

Dr. Adams now says that for a cost of $100,000 the lives of 75 to 105 babies could be saved each year in B.C.

The money would pay for a province-wide study of baby deaths.

Dr. Adams said he would not comment on Mr. Martin's accusation that he had been guilty of gross irresponsibility.

He said he was leaving any further statements to the association.

However, he welcomed the forthcoming meeting with Mr. Martin as a step in the right direction.

Mr. Proctor said the meeting will be either Nov. 15 or 18 and it might be here or in Vancouver.

Reds Haven't Called Off Moon Shot

MOSCOW (UPI)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev said today the Soviet Union has not given up its lunar project and would possibly launch a man to the moon when it is certain he "can be sent back."

Khrushchev discussed moon and other space problems in a marathon interview with a group of American business executives visiting Moscow.

"In regard to the question of whether we have given up the lunar project for economic reasons or otherwise, we have never said we are giving up our lunar project. You're the ones who said that," Khrushchev said.

"And when we talk about the technical possibilities of doing this, and when we have complete confidence that whoever is sent to the moon can safely be sent back, then it is quite feasible. Quite possible. When, I don't know."

CAUSAPSCAL, Que. (CP)—Mayor George Barriault kept his eyes discreetly lowered, but the alderman and about 30 taxpayers at the Causapscal council meeting roared with laughter Tuesday night at a letter from the federal transport department proposing to establish a maritime industry at Causapscal "if the port facilities are adequate."

The letter said the measure

is being considered because Causapscal has been listed as an "economically feeble" area.

The department posed two conditions.

One was that Causapscal should not now have a maritime industry. (The secretary-treasurer had to stop reading the letter at this point until the laughter died down.)

The second was that Causapscal should have certain port facilities for such an industry. (Here the audience went into paroxysms of laughter.)

Old Sweats Battle The March of Time

Every year, on Nov. 11, the Canadian Legion Branch at Fulford Harbour on Salt Spring Island holds a Remembrance Day parade.

Each year they have a problem, and each year the problem becomes more acute.

Alfred Dane, member of the Legion at Fulford, who has arranged this year's parade, explains it this way: "Our service includes a march to the Cenotaph, and for this I have a march played over a public address system."

"The march," he continues, "cannot be played in the quick time of the old days on the parade square... some of us are veterans of not two, but three, wars. We even have one member who was in the Sudan campaign under Lord Kitchener! "You'll see by this, that some of us just aren't as young as we used to be... what we need is a slowed-down march so we old vets can keep in step..."

Added to this problem, Mr. Dane explains, is the fact the records he has been using for the past 10 years are suffering from wear and breakage.

The problems were recently brought to the attention of the Royal Canadian Navy band of HMCS Naden, and the problem has been solved.

Under the direction of bandmaster Lieutenant Tudor Jones, the Naden band has tape-recorded—in slow time—the selections used by the Legion at Fulford Harbour in their Remembrance Day service. These are: "Hearts of Oak," "O Canada," "Oh God Our Help in Ages Past," and "God Save the Queen."

The tape was sent to the Canadian Legion at Fulford Harbour, and on Monday when the veterans of many battles march together again they will do so with singleness of purpose—and singleness of purpose.

CONVOY

British and French liaison units joined the manoeuvre to test Allied co-operation. A U.S. spokesman said the exercise is limited to Berlin and there is no possibility of confrontation with the Russians.

The 44 men of the freed convoy drove to an army barracks for their first meal under a solid roof since Monday. During the hours of waiting on the highway they had eaten well, played cards and checked their vehicles to keep alert.

Allied officials mulled over a variety of likely reasons for the Soviet blockade—the third in less than a month—and its sudden withdrawal.

One theory was that the Russians wanted to force the Western powers into negotiation on something which they have declared un-negotiable—their right by conquest to set their own rules for access to Berlin. Another was that the Russians wanted to flex their muscles in advance of Communist block talks intended to denounce Red China's heresies. The Peeking Reds charge the Russians are too soft with the West.

Ex-Lawyer Jailed For Three Years

DUNCAN — Disbarred lawyer John Francis Meagher of Saltair was sentenced Tuesday to three years in the penitentiary after he pleaded guilty to charges of theft involving some $20,000.

Meagher was accused of converting to his own use the $18,975 residue of the estate of a Vancouver man, John Hydes, and theft of a $1,600 mortgage payment from Mrs. Frances Bruning of Yubou.

Prosecutor David Williams said Meagher had two convictions for false pretences dating back to 1937. The current charges concerned the period from June, 1961, to last August.

Defence counsel A. I. MacDonald argued that both charges arose while Meagher had not been a practising lawyer. He said both could be traced to the defendant's addiction to alcohol.

In passing sentence Judge M. L. Tyrwhitt-Drake said it is a most unfortunate situation when the legal profession falls by the wayside and a lawyer's skills are used without integrity. The public had to be protected from such persons.

U.S. Leads in Rockets, Soviet Has Most Troops

LONDON (AP)—The United States will have 475 intercontinental rockets stacked up against Russia's army of about 100 by the start of 1964, an authoritative defence survey estimates today.

Present strength of Soviet armed forces was put at 3,300,000 men compared with 2,700,000 men under arms in the United States.

But the total service manpower for nations of the Western alliance was 7,920,000 compared with 7,522,000 for the Communist bloc, including Communist China.

The findings are given in a report by the Institute for Strategic Studies, a non-governmental but authoritative body whose researches are backed by grants from such organizations as the Ford and Rockefeller foundations.

"The main lines of Soviet defence policy in 1963 have changed little from those of the preceding two years," the report says. "The slow buildup of the strategic deterrent force of intercontinental ballistic missiles (ICBMs) is continuing."

"Soviet policy still lays stress on high yield warheads for the smaller number of missiles available."

The report says the nuclear test ban treaty may inhibit Russia's anti-missile program but is unlikely to hold up Soviet advance in low yield nuclear weapons—the one field where Soviet prowess is apparently inferior to that of the United States.

The Chinese-Soviet dispute is described as a complicating factor. "Apart from 17 Soviet divisions in the Far East, troops already in central Asia, and a few detachments beyond Lake Baikal, the Soviet Union has no military formations other than border guards along its border with China."

But the report predicts "there is unlikely to be any shift of forces from Europe or European Russia."

In addition to the home-based ICBMs, the U.S. has 1,300 strategic legion bombers and 10 Polaris submarines equipped with 16 rockets apiece in its nuclear deterrent pattern, the report says.

It estimates Russia's strategic air force at nearly 1,200 planes, though about 1,000 of these are Badger medium bombers with a comparatively short unfuelled range of 3,500 miles.

HOPES 'VERY SLIM' FOR MISSING PAIR

Air Force crash boats Heron and Black Duck dragged near Comox Tuesday for the bodies of two fishermen missing since Saturday afternoon.

Former Happy Valley man, Raymond Chapman, 31, an airframe technician, and Monty Mandruk, 49-year-old Courtenay construction worker, went fishing near Tree Island Saturday.

"Hope of finding them alive is very slim," an RCAF spokesman said.

Their damaged craft, its engine torn off, was found on Goose Spit Sunday. Fishing rods, a metal seat and motor handle were found in the vicinity Monday.
